Summary of the Course

Subject Area: History

At a time when much of the world's population is on the move, immigration and asylum have become two of the most contentious issues today. And while Australia's population is one of the most diverse, our society is historically one of the most insular. In this course you will explore how migration has shaped and transformed Australian politics and society, and how Australia has responded to migrants and refugees. We examine the rise and fall of the White Australia policy, the major shifts of the post-war period and new international obligations, Australia's changing attitudes to newcomers, the appearance of ""boat people"" and new regimes of exclusion, and the ways in which successive migrant groups have come to call Australia home.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse key events, ideas, people and developments in relation to Australia's history of migrants and refugees
2. Evaluate relevant scholarly literature
3. Answer historical questions using evidence based arguments based on independently located sources
4. Contribute effectively as a member of a group or team
5. Communicate ideas and engage in discussion

Teaching Strategies

As scholars and writers intimately involved in migration history, we designed this course with the aim of showcasing the benefits of research-led teaching. We believe that research-led teaching conveys enthusiasm and dedication to a specific teaching area, and to historical scholarship. You will be encouraged to think about how migration history has informed current events, policies and attitudes towards migrants and refugees in Australia. You will be introduced to rich and diverse material, from films and literature to more traditional archival sources, and will be part of what is always a lively learning environment. As well as developing your written and analytical skills, you will also be given the space and guidance to develop a project over the course of the semester in a small group about a migrant group of your own choosing.

Assessment

Submission

Tutorial papers and research essays should be submitted electronically to Turn It In on Moodle. The link will be clearly marked.

Referencing

All written work must be original (i.e. not plagiarised) and properly referenced using ONE recognised referencing system (e.g. Oxford or Harvard) but not a combination of systems. The preference is for footnote system – Oxford or Chicago.

<https://student.unsw.edu.au/footnote-bibliography-or-oxford-referencing-system>

In-text (eg. Stearns 2015, p. 14) is okay provided it includes a page number AND a reference list.

See: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/harvard-referencing>

Tip: When in doubt, reference. Footnotes, for example, are not only for direct quotations but also for instances in which you paraphrase the work of other scholars.

Tip: Footnotes go in sequence, but should never be placed next to each other.[1] [2] If you want to refer to two sources at one point, insert one footnote and then describe both sources.[3]

Tip: With a footnote, first then surname. In a bibliography/ reference list, arrange in alphabetical order by surname.

Formatting

All written work must be properly formatted:

1.5 or double spaced.

12 point font (preferably an easy to read font such as Times New Roman)

Reasonable margins.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Tutorial Paper

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: 1000 words (new word count)

Details: Tutorial paper. 1500 words. A written response to a set tutorial question chosen from the first 5 weeks of the course, analysing set readings. This receives written feedback on the turnitin page of their submission, under the comments field, of one to three paragraphs, based on their incorporation of sources, their ability to accurately analyse the source material and respond to the question, their written style and presentation.

Additional details:

This tutorial paper is a mini essay insofar as you base your answer on sufficient research (secondary/primary) and present it in essay format (introduction, key points examined in systematic fashion, conclusion). It is based on questions set for Weeks 1-4. You pick one of these questions and answer it, using course materials. It is due at the end of Week 4, not week 5, in keeping with the new term format.

Submission notes: Revision of word count and due date from 2018

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 2: Major research essay

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: 2500-3000 words

Details: Research essay. 3000 words. An analytical essay using independently sourced evidence, answering a set question and making an informed argument. This is the final assessment for attendance purposes. The feedback is in the form of extensive written response by me, analysing argument and analysis, effective location of relevant sources, use of at least 8 secondary sources and two primary sources, referencing and presentation and written style. The student receives general comments in the comments field, and more specific comments in the rubric field, under the three headings: Argument and Analysis; Style and Structure and Research and Referencing.

Additional details:

This is the final assessment for attendance purposes. There will be time dedicated in class to essay writing and resources allocated on Moodle.

Assessment revision to be introduced in Term I, 2019 - 10% of the overall mark for this assessment will consist of a primary source task to be presented in the seminar. More details will be available on Moodle - the basic idea is to find a primary source relevant to your essay and to share details of it with your classmates. Zora will provide written feedback via email and the mark will go towards your overall essay mark.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 3: Group Presentation

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: 30 minutes plus 500 words

Details: Group presentation of 30 minutes, plus a 500 word response. Early in the course, you will be put into a small group. Your group will choose a migrant community to historicise. Throughout the semester, the group will develop their project in class and outside of it (ie. Over email and/ or through external meetings). The aim is to present a 25-30-minute presentation in Week 12 or 13 on the past and present of the designated migrant community. As part of the assessment, students will be required to hand in a 500 word description of their individual research and group experience. The feedback process is a one page response from me assessing their group presentation in conjunction with the 500 word reflection. I assess on the basis of quality of the presentation, the use of historical data and imagery, the argument and analysis, how well the group performed as a team, and responsiveness to questions from the class.

Additional details:

We will allocate plenty of time in class for group work in anticipation of the final presentations. There will be a submission box on Moodle for the written part of the assessment, to be submitted the day of the presentation.

Submission notes: The presentations are in Week 9 (not 12 or 13)

Turnitin setting: This is not a Turnitin assignment

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
