Summary of the Course

Subject Area: French Studies

This course provides intermediate level French language study from a communicative and task-based approach. It is designed for students with a knowledge of French equivalent to three semesters of studying the language at university level. In this course, you learn to communicate and produce texts on topics which are familiar or of personal interest. You develop your listening and speaking skills as well as your reading and writing skills in French through a number of different activities and tasks done in class and/or prepared at home. Vocabulary and grammatical structures are presented in the context of culturally relevant issues from France or the Francophone world. The medium of instruction is French.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Understand and respond to the main points of oral and written texts dealing with topics of broader social concerns encountered in the French-speaking communities
2. Produce simple, coherent texts (oral and written) on common topics or areas of personal interest
3. Describe experiences and events and provide reasons or explanations for opinions and plans
4. Distinguish significant differences between some customs, attitudes or beliefs prevalent in the French-speaking community and those of their own

Teaching Strategies

The approach to the French language is communicative and task-based, which means the course focuses on the language, communicative strategies, and cultural factors in daily person-to-person interaction, in order to accomplish meaningful tasks. This is achieved through collaborative peer interaction and inclusive teaching strategies aiming at the improvement of oral and written fluency and accuracy, all supported by a variety of authentic documents and various media to increase student listening and reading comprehension skills. The language of instruction, assessment and general communication is French. Face-to-face teaching is supported and enhanced by on-line materials and activities via the online platform (Moodle through TELT UNSW Gateway).

- In lectures, students mainly learn about culture topics from the French speaking world (such as rules of social behaviour, or good work habits) and the vocabulary related to the field, as well as about grammar topics (such as tenses and moods, or pronouns) in order to develop accuracy in the language. To further the student's learning experience, all grammar lectures will be pre-recorded on-line, following the model of the flipped classroom (The flipped classroom describes a reversal of traditional teaching where students gain first exposure to new material outside of class, usually via reading or lecture videos, and then class time is used to do the harder work of assimilating that knowledge through strategies such as problem solving, discussion or debates. Vanderbilt University, Centre for Teaching).
- In tutorials, students can develop their interactive skills and use the French language in context through small group work. Teaching is conducted in language/computer laboratories that allow for listening, writing, recording, viewing video materials, practicing pair discussions, and using Internet resources. A variety of language tasks in all skills are implemented by means of this technology.

In addition to the class activities, students are expected to do weekly grammar exercises and pronunciation, listening or writing exercises, as well as regular private study and revision at home or in the multimedia area. (Weekly practice and revision with the audio and video material accompanying the course textbook + the online content of the course). A minimum of 5 hours per week of independent work is expected. Regular active practice and revision are essential for effective progression.

Recommended Resources

You should think about acquiring a good dictionary. If you intend to do a major in French, we recommend that you buy a large bilingual (French-English/English-French) dictionary. You should buy the biggest dictionary you can afford: a pocketsize or concise dictionary will quickly prove inadequate. Many students also like to have a grammar reference book. The following recommended books are available from the Bookshop:

- Essential French Dictionary & Grammar. 2nd Ed. Harper/Collins. Oxford-Hachette French Dictionary. Oxford.
- M. Coffman. French Grammar. McGraw-Hill. R. Hawkins & R. Towell. French Grammar and Usage. McGraw-Hill.

For students who would like to have additional French grammar practice, we recommend:

- GREGOIRE & O. THIEVENAZ. (2003). Grammaire progressive du français. Niveau intermédiaire. Paris, CLE. (Students should also buy the accompanying booklet 'Corrigés').

For students who lack confidence in dealing with English grammar, the following book is also recommended (available at the Bookshop and in the Library):

- J. Morton. English grammar for students of French. Olivia & Hill.

Course Evaluation and Development

Courses are periodically reviewed, and students' feedback is used to improve them. Feedback is gathered from students using myExperience. It is encouraged students complete their surveys by accessing the personalised web link via the Moodle course site.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au . Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course's Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
