2. Produce original texts expressing opinions and ideas as well as reflecting on experiences
3. Communicate effectively on matters related to familiar content and topics of personal interest
4. Understand aspects of the target language and apply knowledge of language structures
5. Reflect on language learning process and language learning strategies

Teaching Strategies

Rationale for the Inclusion of Content and Teaching Approach

Advanced German A is designed for students with advanced level of German language proficiency and forms part of the core language program in German Studies. It serves as the Third Year/First term course in the Introductory Stream and the Second Year/First term course in the Intermediate Stream. It also serves as the Year 1 entry to students with equivalent knowledge of Intermediate German B. It consolidates and extends skills in listening to, speaking, reading and writing German, with a distinct focus on the cultural and political history of modern-day Germany [Landeskunde]. The topics selected for the course vary from year to year. Reviews of grammar and writing skills will be conducted throughout the term.

Teaching Strategies

The language of instruction is predominantly German (with the exception of some explanation of grammatical features) so that students develop their listening skills. Lecture content is split between reviewing grammar and the presentation of cultural material covered in the course. The tutorials provide extensive opportunities to listen to, read, speak and write in German. Classroom discussions in German provide grammar and vocabulary to develop themes relevant to the German-speaking societies of Europe and provide opportunities for students to express themselves in relation to their own backgrounds and experiences and with regard to their socio-cultural environment. Students communicate information, ideas and arguments both orally and in writing. They gather and process information from a variety of paper, audio-visual and electronic sources. They use IT effectively both as a means of communication and as an aid to learning as well as to demonstrate some ability as an independent learner

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
