Summary of the Course

This advanced interpreting course is intended for students enrolled in the final semester of their program. Building on skills developed in previous courses, you will further develop your interpreting competencies to reach the standards required by the Australian community. The course will assist you with preparation for the NAATI (National Accreditation Authority for Interpreters and Translators) interpreting certification examination that you can apply for externally. You will need to be proficient in English and one of the languages offered in the Program.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Orally comprehend complex source messages and texts in English and the other relevant language
2. Critically analyse oral speech in English and the other relevant language
3. Accurately convert the source message to the target language orally using different interpreting modes
4. Deliver the interpreted utterance in the appropriate register and style
5. Manage and coordinate triadic bilingual interactions
6. Apply knowledge of the Code of Ethics and theories of Interpreting in an examination situation

Teaching Strategies

This course combines lectures and language-specific tutorials.

In the lectures, you will revise and build on your existing knowledge of interpreting theory and practice, deepening your knowledge of the domains used in a variety of interpreting settings. You will work individually and in small groups to hone your skills and critically evaluate them through self- and peer-assessment.

You will apply these skills to the bilingual context of your respective language-specific tutorials. Oral feedback will be provided to the class and individually.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: Using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This includes copying materials, ideas or concepts from a book, article, report or other written document, presentation, composition, artwork, design, drawing, circuitry, computer program or software, website, internet, other electronic resource, or another person's assignment without appropriate acknowledgement.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original information, structure and/or progression of ideas of the original without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: Working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student for the purpose of them plagiarising, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): Submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices

The UNSW Academic Skills support offers resources and individual consultations. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study. One of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study. Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library
