Summary of the Course

Subject Area: International Studies

In this course you will study how historical dynamics have shaped the current global system. We ask "how did we get here today?", by looking at the historical relations between governments and peoples on the continents of Europe, Africa, Middle East, Latin America and Asia. Using both theory and area studies literature, we will examine how specific assumptions, social formations and territorial claims have contributed to trajectories of development and underdevelopment. Using literatures from the continents concerned, we also examine how key representations of those who were colonized gave rise to resistance and movements for self-determination.

At the conclusion of this course the student will be able to

1. Identify and explain key concepts relevant to the historical evolution of the global system.
2. Demonstrate a sound working knowledge of the structures and processes involved in colonialism and imperialism
3. Explain how historical trajectories have created contemporary relations of dependence and inequality in at least one area of the world, such as Latin America, Asia, the Middle East or Africa.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of how historical dynamics associated with colonialism and imperialism have contributed to claims for self-determination and independence.
5. Display effective research and communication skills and apply them in written work, presentations and other forms of assessment

Teaching Strategies

The teaching strategy includes 2 hours of lecture and one hour of tutorial time, together with a varied assignment structure.

The lectures will introduce theoretical and conceptual material, the historical underpinnings of the current conditions of inequality, interdependence, struggles for self-determination, and conflict brought about by dynamics such as imperialism, colonialism and post-colonial systems of power. We will introduce pertinent literatures written within these societies related to these issues. This information will be mapped onto actual context specific examples of such changes across the globe. Students will be required to attend lectures where they develop effective listening skills, comprehension and effective note-taking.

Tutorials will provide an opportunity to explore these themes in conjunction with assigned reading material. Tutorials allow for the development of oral presentation skills and inter-group dialogue about the issues being explored.

Assignments test the students in variety of skill sets. The examination will test whether the information has been assimilated, together with critical and analytical thinking skills. The assignments will test the ability to separate core from subsidiary arguments and the ability to craft a coherent thesis and line of argumentation. Group work assignments such as the project and presentation test team working, lateral thought, applications of theoretical and conceptual teaching to actual situations, innovation in written and oral presentation skills.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Midterm

Start date:

Details: Students will undertake a written in class test (2 hours) on the material in the first half of the course to Week 6. This task will test students on their knowledge of key concepts related to the evolution of the global system. Students will receive written feedback.

Assessment 2: Research Presentation and Project (written component)(30

Start date:

Length: 2500 words

Details: Students will work in a group to create a presentation and write up of 2500 words. While research and presentation can involve group work, the project after presentation must be written up individually and handed into the tutor for a grade. Assignment will be submitted electronically. Students will receive written feedback. This is the final assessment for attendance purposes.

Assessment 3: Research Presentation and Project (presentation component)(10

Start date:

Length: 15 mins

Details: Students will work in a group to create a presentation. The presentation should last for 15 minutes and should be presented to the class in groups of 2-3 people. A grade will be assigned at the time of the presentation. Written feedback will be given. This assignment is linked to the written assignment (3).

Assessment 4: Analytical Essay

Details: Students will write an analytical paper on one theorist covered in the course. The length of the essay will be 2000 words. Students will receive written feedback.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course's Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Late Assessment Penalties

Students are responsible for the submission of assessment tasks by the required dates and times. Depending on the extent of delay in the submission of an assessment task past the due date and time, one of the following late penalties will apply unless special consideration or a blanket extension due to a technical outage is granted. For the purpose of late penalty calculation, a 'day' is deemed to be each 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline for submission.

- Work submitted less than 10 days after the stipulated deadline is subject to a deduction of 5% of the total awardable mark from the mark that would have been achieved if not for the penalty for every day past the stipulated deadline for submission. That is, a student who submits an assignment with a stipulated deadline of 4:00pm on 13 May 2016 at 4:10pm on 14 May 2016 will incur a deduction of 10%.

Task with a non-percentage mark

If the task is marked out of 25, then late submission will attract a penalty of a deduction of 1.25 from the mark awarded to the student for every 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline.

Example: A student submits an essay 48 hours and 10 minutes after the stipulated deadline. The total possible mark for the essay is 25. The essay receives a mark of 17. The student's mark is therefore $17 - [25 (0.05 \times 3)] = 13.25$

Task with a percentage mark

If the task is marked out of 100%, then late submission will attract a penalty of a deduction of 5% from the mark awarded to the student for every 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline.

Example: A student submits an essay 48 hours and 10 minutes after the stipulated deadline. The essay is marked out of 100%. The essay receives a mark of 68. The student's mark is therefore $68 - 15 = 53$

- Work submitted 10 to 19 days after the stipulated deadline will be assessed and feedback provided but a mark of zero will be recorded. If the work would have received a pass mark but for the lateness and the work is a compulsory course component (hurdle requirement), a student will be deemed to have met that requirement;
- Work submitted 20 or more days after the stipulated deadline will not be accepted for assessment and will receive no feedback, mark or grade. If the assessment task is a compulsory component of the course a student will receive an Unsatisfactory Fail (UF) grade as a result of unsatisfactory performance in an essential component of the course.

Special Consideration Applications

You can apply for special consideration when illness or other circumstances interfere with your assessment performance.

Sickness, misadventure or other circumstances beyond your control may:

- * Prevent you from completing a course requirement,
- * Keep you from attending an assessable activity,
- * Stop you submitting assessable work for a course,
- * Significantly affect your performance in assessable work, be it a formal end-of-semester examination, a class test, a laboratory test, a seminar presentation or any other form of assessment.

For further details in relation to Special Consideration including "When to Apply", "How to Apply" and "Supporting Documentation" please refer to the Special Consideration website:

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
