Summary of the Course

Subject Area: Chinese Studies

This course can also be studied in the following specialisation: Asian Studies

The 'Silk Roads' are often considered to be the world's greatest network of throughways that linked China to the Mediterranean world over land and sea. The historical development of Chinese culture and civilization cannot be scrutinized without a reflective understanding of the Chinese Empire's dynamic interactions with the nomadic peoples and the Western world that were situated along the Silk Road. In this course, you will examine the geopolitical and cultural landscapes of Eurasia; the migration of peoples; as well as the spread of goods, religions, ideas, technologies, art and diseases between the East and the West. You will explore the construction of an early form of globalization, and how it has contributed to the formation and dissolution of people's ethnic, religious, linguistic and cultural identities. This course ends by examining Chinese government's grand initiative 'One Belt One Road', and inquiring about the way in which the geopolitics of the Silk Road region in the past still exerts tangible and long-lasting impact on the world today.

This course is taught in English and with readings in English.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. describe the interconnections and mutual influences that contribute to the development of civilisations such as that of China
2. articulate the role of commerce in the dissemination of arts, technologies, beliefs and customs; and the cultural and economic consequences of long lasting contacts between settled and nomadic populations
3. critically evaluate different kinds of historical evidence in academic writing, in particular written sources, artefacts, archaeological findings and ongoing traditions
4. work effectively in small groups
5. articulate ideas and coherent arguments drawing on independently located sources

Teaching Strategies

This course is designed to build your knowledge in the geographic, ecological and cultural conditions of the Silk Road regions, and their ongoing relevance for the construction of Chinese culture and politics. We make use of archaeological findings and of textual materials in Chinese and other languages. Readings, lectures, videos and workshop discussions and presentations introduce you to aspects of the history, culture and daily life of the Silk Road region. We will attempt to engage you in discussions, taking your interests and your disciplinary background into consideration. The sequence of lectures is meant to take a step by step approach. It adheres as much as it is possible to a chronological and geographical order and framework. However, developments along the Silk Road were and are complex. As this is an intensive course, you will find the subject much more enjoyable and interesting if you come prepared. Lectures and readings are meant to give you a broad picture. We encourage and expect you to work independently for your research essay and take-home-exam questions, and engage vigorously in group-work for the preparation for your group presentation. You are invited to make active use of your own disciplinary skills and interests by choosing topics you wish to work on and by using methods you are familiar with.

Assessment

Lecture Dates and Hours:

Monday 21 January - Friday 25 January

Morning: 10:00 -12:00

Afternoon: 1:00 - 3:00

Web-enrolled students do not need to physically attend the lectures. However, you are required to listen to it on the same day that the lectures are delivered. Students enrolled in the face-to-face class must attend at least 80% of the lectures.

Tutorial dates and hours

Two-hour tutorial: 28 or 29 January

In this tutorial session, your group will be presenting the group work that you have prepared on the assigned topic. Again, ALL students, including web-enrolled students, must attend this 2-hour session physically.

Assessment Tasks

Assessment task	Weight	Due Date	Student Learning Outcomes Assessed
Group presentation	25%	Not Applicable	1,3,4
Online test	35%	08/02/2019 04:00 PM	2,3,5
Research essay	40%	15/02/2019 04:00 PM	1,2,3,5

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Group presentation

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Students in allocated groups present on the assigned content. Feedback via individual comments, rubric and in-class discussion

Additional details:

ALL students, including both face-to-face and web-enrolled students, will be assigned to a group and you will find your group members and their contact email on Moodle. It is your responsibility to get in touch with one another and decide when and how to communicate amongst yourselves so that you can start preparing for the group presentation immediately. Remember, it is YOUR responsibility to make sure that you are connected to, and stay in touch with your assigned group members. Otherwise, you will lose 25% of the total mark for this course.

Assessment 2: Online test

Start date: 08/02/2019 12:00 PM

Details: Online test covering class content. Students receive written feedback.

Turnitin setting: This is not a Turnitin assignment

Assessment 3: Research essay

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Students write an essay based on independent research (ca. 2500 words). Feedback via individual comments and rubric.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students do not see Turnitin similarity reports.

Attendance Requirements

Students are strongly encouraged to attend all classes and review lecture recordings.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course's Moodle site with alternative submission details.

For information on how to submit assignments online via Moodle:

<https://student.unsw.edu.au/how-submit-assignment-moodle>

Late Assessment Penalties

Students are responsible for the submission of assessment tasks by the required dates and times. Depending on the extent of delay in the submission of an assessment task past the due date and time, one of the following late penalties will apply unless special consideration or a blanket extension due to a technical outage is granted. For the purpose of late penalty calculation, a 'day' is deemed to be each 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline for submission.

Work submitted less than 10 days after the stipulated deadline is subject to a deduction of 5% of the total awardable mark from the mark that would have been achieved if not for the penalty for every day past the stipulated deadline for submission. That is, a student who submits an assignment with a stipulated deadline of 4:00pm on 13 May 2016 at 4:10pm on 14 May 2016 will incur a deduction of 10%.

Task with a non-percentage mark

If the task is marked out of 25, then late submission will attract a penalty of a deduction of 1.25 from the mark awarded to the student for every 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline. Example: A student submits an essay 48 hours and 10 minutes after the stipulated deadline. The total possible mark for the essay is 25. The essay receives a mark of 17. The student's mark is therefore  $17 - [25 (0.05 \times 3)] = 13.25$

Task with a percentage mark

If the task is marked out of 100%, then late submission will attract a penalty of a deduction of 5% from the mark awarded to the student for every 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline. Example: A student submits an essay 48 hours and 10 minutes after the stipulated deadline. The essay is marked out of 100%. The essay receives a mark of 68. The student's mark is therefore  $68 - 15 = 53$

Work submitted 10 to 19 days after the stipulated deadline will be assessed and feedback provided but a mark of zero will be recorded. If the work would have received a pass mark but for the lateness and the work is a compulsory course component (hurdle requirement), a student will be deemed to have met that requirement;

Work submitted 20 or more days after the stipulated deadline will not be accepted for assessment and will receive no feedback, mark or grade. If the assessment task is a compulsory component of the course a student will receive an Unsatisfactory Fail (UF) grade as a result of unsatisfactory performance in an essential component of the course.

This information is also available at: <https://www.arts.unsw.edu.au/current-students/academic-information/protocols-guidelines/>

Supplementary assessments

The form of the supplementary assessment need not be identical to the original assessment but it must assess the same learning outcomes.

A supplementary assessment will be offered to a student who fails an assessment task in either of the following circumstances:

- Supplementary assessment will be offered to any student who fails an assessment task if their request for Special Consideration for that task is approved. The mark awarded for the assessment task will be based solely on the supplementary assessment.
- Where a student fails an assessment task in a course in the final term of their program, but does not have an approved Special Consideration for that task, supplementary assessment will still be offered in cases where passing the task would have resulted in the student passing the course and completing the program.

Schools may choose to offer supplementary assessments under other circumstances than those listed above. Decisions by Schools to offer supplementary assessments under other circumstances than those listed above should be guided by local processes to promote principled and consistent decision-making.

The mark awarded for a supplementary assessment, in the absence of Special Consideration, will be capped:

- Where a supplementary assessment is provided for a student who fails an assessment task in any course, the final mark awarded for the assessment task will be capped at 50%.
- Where a supplementary assessment is provided to a student with a Fail based on the overall course result, the final mark for the course will be capped at 50%.

This information is also available at:

<https://www.arts.unsw.edu.au/current-students/academic-information/protocols-guidelines/>

Special Consideration Applications

You can apply for special consideration when illness or other circumstances interfere with your assessment performance.

Sickness, misadventure or other circumstances beyond your control may:

- * Prevent you from completing a course requirement,
- * Keep you from attending an assessable activity,
- * Stop you submitting assessable work for a course,
- * Significantly affect your performance in assessable work, be it a formal end-of-term examination, a class test, a laboratory test, a seminar presentation or any other form of assessment.

For further details in relation to Special Consideration including "When to Apply", "How to Apply" and "Supporting Documentation" please refer to the Special Consideration website:

<https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration>

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
