3. COURSE DETAILS

Course Name	Enhancing Student Learning in Higher Education
Credit Points	6 units of credit (6 UOC)
Workload	150 hours incorporating online seminars, individual and group learning activities, independent reading, and the preparation of a response to two assessment tasks.
Schedule	The course is offered as scaffolded independent study with online seminars between 5 and 7pm on Monday evenings beginning in Week 1 (Monday 16 th September 2019) and then as indicated in the Course Schedule from Monday 23 September 2019. http://classutil.unsw.edu.au/EDST_T3.html

SUMMARY OF COURSE

This course is an elective course in the Graduate Certificate in University Learning and Teaching (GCULT) Program.

It utilises and builds on theories of learning and teaching introduced in the University's Foundations of University Learning and Teaching program, and in EDST 5121 Introduction to University Learning and Teaching.

The course is based on the assumption that improvements to student learning (experience and outcomes) are underpinned by an understanding of how people learn.

In this course you will consider learning from a number of different perspectives: your own; those of your colleagues and students; and the diverse range of perspectives found in the educational literature, including adult learning literature, higher education literature, disciplinary based learning and teaching literature, and educational psychology literature.

You will be provided with opportunities to analyse, critique and explore: your current (perhaps taken-for-granted) assumptions and beliefs about learning and the impact of these on your current teaching practices; and the nature of "good" teaching, as informed by contemporary theories of learning, in different contexts (on-campus, online and in blended settings) in higher education.

THE MAIN WAYS IN WHICH THE COURSE HAS CHANGED SINCE LAST TIME AS A RESULT OF STUDENT FEEDBACK:

- You will be provided with more opportunities for engagement with the teaching staff and your fellow students via on-line learning activities and seminars
- You will be given the opportunity to give and receive feedback on draft assignments through the inclusion of a peer review exercise prior to the submission date for each assignment.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES (CLOS)

Outcome		Assessment/s
1	Articulate and evaluate student and/or teacher perspectives of learning with reference to current theories of learning	1, 2, 3
2	Use literature to critically appraise learning in specific educational (on-campus, online and blended) and/or disciplinary contexts	1, 2, 3
3	Analyse student – teacher interactivity in various educational (on-campus, online and blended) and/or disciplinary contexts	1, 3
4	Develop strategies to positively impact on student learning in specific educational (on-campus, online and blended) and/or disciplinary contexts	1, 3

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES (PLOS)

Outcome		Assessment/s
1	Articulate specialised knowledge of key theories of learning and teaching in higher education	1, 2, 3
2	Analyse factors affecting learning and teaching in higher education	1, 2, 3
3	Apply principles of good practice for learning and teaching in higher education	1, 3
4	Apply scholarly and reflective practices for continuous improvement in learning and teaching.	1, 3
5	Communicate and collaborate in scholarly, ethical, respectful and responsible ways.	1, 2, 3

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

Research suggests that students learn best when they are actively engaged in their learning through analysis, discussion, collaboration, reflection and application. Thus research has driven a shift in the way we teach, moving from a transmission approach, to learning centred and blended learning approaches. The teaching strategies in this course aim to model these approaches.

5. TEACHING STRATEGIES

To scaffold and support your learning, you will be provided with:

- (a) key readings on theories of learning and their implications for teaching in higher education,
- (b) online learning activities aimed at developing critical awareness of the constructs and theories contained in these readings, and
- (c) online tools to enable and foster collaboration and facilitate discussion and reflection on the implications of these theories and constructs for practice.

Three assessment tasks including regular weekly learning activities will facilitate the transfer of your knowledge of key constructs and theories of learning and teaching into practical actions that you might use as a teacher to more effectively scaffold and support your students' learning.

The teaching strategies utilised in this course are fully aligned with the course's learning outcomes, and are designed to maximize your potential to achieve these outcomes and to complete the course's assessment tasks.

As a fully online course, the course will make use of Moodle as its learning management system and Zoom as its online seminar tool.

Clearly defined Weekly Learning Activities will help focus your engagement with key constructs and theories and scaffold the work you need to do to complete your two required assessment tasks.

6. COURSE CONTENT STRUCTURE AND SCHEDULE

*On-line seminar scheduled on Monday of this week from 5.00 – 7.00pm

7. RESOURCES

Readings

This course has two prescribed texts. Weekly learning activities will be based upon readings from these texts and other prescribed readings. However, you are encouraged to read more widely in the scholarly literature on learning and teaching in higher education generally, and in your discipline in particular.

Prescribed Texts

Hunt, L. & Chalmers, D. (Eds). (2012). University teaching in focus. A learning-centred approach. Camberwell: ACER Press.

Biggs, J., & Tang, C. (2011). Teaching for Quality Learning. (4th ed.). Buckingham, UK: SRHE and Open University Press.

Moodle Course

EDST 5122 Enhancing Student Learning in Higher Education has an on-line presence within Moodle where you can find:

1. information concerning the structure and processes of the course (including further information about assessment tasks)
2. learning activities for each of the topics included in the Course Schedule
3. tools that you can use for independent research, collaboration, and sharing of information.

You should ensure that you are a regular visitor to and user of this site as it will be the principal means by which the Course Convenor will communicate information and provide feedback to you and your colleagues.

Online Seminars and Learning Activities

The online seminars and learning activities associated with this course are an integral part of the course and represent a good opportunity for you to:

- engage with your peers in negotiating the meaning of the key constructs and theories of university learning and teaching examined in the course,
- compare and contrast the significance of these constructs and theories for you and for others
- identify individuals with whom you may share similar interests or who are facing similar learning and teaching challenges, who could become a valuable learning partner.

It is expected that all students enrolled in the course will participate in each of these online seminars and learning activities.

Please note, that as this course is offered fully online, to meet the School of Education's Attendance Requirements (see <https://education.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/courses/course-outlines/>) you will need to complete/participate in 80% of all designated learning activities and online seminars.

Online seminars will be conducted via ZOOM.

Login details for each online seminar can be found in the resources section of the relevant week in the course's Moodle site.

Simply open your web browser and enter the information required from that provided.

Seminars will begin at 5.00 pm "sharp" on Monday evenings in weeks 1, 2, 5, 6, 8 and 10.

You should LOGIN between 4.55 - 5.00 pm.

Login after 5.10 pm will be blocked to prevent disruption to the class.

Seminars will run as long as needed and will always conclude by 7.00pm.

UNSW Library and Online Search Engines

Information concerning higher education learning and teaching can be identified and accessed from a wide variety of sources including the UNSW Library and its website:

<http://info.library.unsw.edu.au/web/services/services.html>

In addition, a number of on-line search engines such as Google Scholar, and websites such as those associated with the NTEU, Universities Australia, the Go8, or Universitas 21 can assist you to locate and access relevant information.

8. ASSESSMENT

Assessment	Length	Weight	CLOs Assessed	PLOs Assessed	Due Date
Task 1 Make contributions to Learning Activities that advance discussion, debate and understanding of key concepts and theories of learning and teaching in your discipline and in higher education more generally	2000 words or equivalent	20%	1, 2, 3, 4	1, 2, 3, 4, 5	As required throughout the course (assessed on Monday of weeks 2, 5 and 8)
Task 2 Review of teacher understandings of learning and teaching in your discipline	2000 words or equivalent	40 %	1, 2	1, 2, 5	Friday By 5.00 pm 4 October 2019
Task 3 An essay on your developing understanding of student learning and how it will influence your future approach to teaching in on-campus, online and blended contexts	2000 words or equivalent	40 %	1, 2, 3, 4	1, 2, 3, 4, 5	Friday By 5.00 pm 22 November 2019

Submission of assessments

Students are required to follow their lecturer's instructions when submitting their work for assessment. All assessment will be submitted online via Moodle by 5pm. Students are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy. Please see the Student Policies and Procedures for information regarding submission, extensions, special consideration, late penalties and hurdle requirements etc. <https://education.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/courses/course-outlines/>

Assessment tasks in this course are designed to assist you to develop a Teaching Philosophy Statement that can guide your decisions and practices as a teacher and that can be used to describe your approach to teaching in any grant, award, performance management, or promotion process associated with your future career development.

Assessment Details

Assessment Task 1:

Contributions to Online Learning Activities

(20% weighting) (Maximum of 2000 words) (CLOs 1, 2, 3 and 4; PLOs 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5)

Submission Dates:

- As required throughout the course

Make contributions to Learning Activities that advance discussion, debate and understanding of the key concepts and theories of learning and teaching in your discipline and higher education more widely.

Assessment Task 2:

A review of teachers' understandings of learning and teaching in your discipline

(40% weighting) (Maximum of 2000 words) (CLOs 1 and 2; PLOs 1, 2 and 5)

Submission Dates:

- Draft for Peer Review: 5.00 pm on Friday 27 September 2019
- FINAL Submission Date: 5.00 pm on Friday 4 October 2019

Prepare a review of teachers' understandings of learning and teaching in your discipline that includes answers to the following questions:

- What are the assumptions, values and beliefs about student learning that underpin your own and your colleagues' approaches to teaching?
- How do these assumptions, values and beliefs about student learning influence your own and your colleagues' approaches to teaching in on-campus, online and blended contexts?
- How do these assumptions, values and beliefs about student learning compare with those embedded in the learning and teaching strategies/approaches advocated in your discipline's scholarly literature on learning and teaching?

Assessment Task 3:

An essay on your developing understanding of student learning and how it will influence your future approach to teaching in on-campus, online, and blended contexts.

(40% weighting) (Maximum of 2000 words) (CLOs 1, 2, 3 and 4; PLOs 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5)

Submission Dates:

- Draft for Peer Review: 5.00 pm on Monday 11 November 2019
- FINAL Submission Date: 5.00 pm on Friday 22 November 2019

Building on your response to Assessment Task 2, and drawing from:

- a. your experiences,
- b. insights from your colleagues' experiences,

- c. the theoretical literature, and
- d. reflection on your own students' experiences of learning in one or more of your courses, write an essay on how your understanding of student learning has evolved as a result of your participation in this course and what the implications of this evolution are for your future teaching in on-campus, online and blended contexts.

This will require you to articulate:

- your understanding of student learning upon entering the course and how this understanding influenced your approach to teaching
- the significance of different aspects of the course (theories of learning examined, observations and insights of colleagues and/or feedback from students) in the evolution of your understanding of student learning
- how your understanding of student learning has changed – what you now understand about student learning in your discipline,
- what the implications of this new understanding of student learning means for your future teaching practices in on-campus, online and blended contexts, and
- how and why these changes to your future teaching strategies are likely to positively impact on student learning

Submission of Assessment Tasks

You are required to follow their lecturer's instructions when submitting their work for assessment.

Assessment Task 1 – As required via posts to Moodle Learning Activity Discussion Forums.

Assessment Task 2 - Should be submitted online via Turnitin in the Course's Moodle Site in the form of a MS Word ".doc" or ".docx" file by 5.00pm on Friday 4 October 2019.

Assessment Tasks 3 - Should be submitted online via Turnitin in the Course's Moodle Site in the form of a MS Word ".doc" or ".docx" file by 5.00 pm on Friday 22 November 2019.

You do not need to use a cover sheet on your assessment tasks. However, you are expected to put your name and student number on every page of your assignment submissions (where appropriate).

You are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy. Please see the Student Policies and Procedures for information regarding submission, extensions, special consideration, late penalties and hurdle requirements etc.

Assessment Criteria, Grading and Feedback

In assessing your work two questions will be considered:

Have you fulfilled ALL of the requirements of the assessment task?

How well have you demonstrated your achievement of the learning outcomes (including the PLOs or graduate capabilities) associated with the task?

Feedback on each assessment task will be provided:

- Formatively, by a peer (AT2 and AT3) and the Course Convenor (AT1)
- Summatively, by the Course Convenor (AT1, AT2, AT3) on a designated Feedback Sheet (copies of which are provided in the following pages).

Feedback on each assessment task will be provided in accord with the schedule below.
