

No Child Should Grow Up Like This:

Identifying long term outcomes of Forgotten Australians,
Child Migrants and the Stolen Generations

Never Stand Still

Arts & Social Sciences

Social Sciences

Launch of Research Monograph

No Child Should Grow Up Like This:

Identifying long term outcomes of Forgotten Australians,
Child Migrants and the Stolen Generations

12 December 2016

John Niland Scientia Building, Ritchie Theatre

Programme

Chair: Andrew McCallum
Chief Executive Officer,
Association of Children's Welfare Agencies

11.00–11.05	Acknowledgement of Country
11.05–11.10	Welcome from UNSW
	Professor Susan Dodds Dean, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, UNSW
11.10–11.25	Address and Launch of Research Monograph
	The Hon Brad Hazzard MP, Minister for Family and Community Services and Minister for Social Housing
11.25–11.40	Highlights from Research
	Professor Elizabeth Fernandez, Dr Jung-Sook Lee, Dr Hazel Blunden, Dr Patricia McNamara School of Social Sciences, UNSW
11.40–12.00	Perspectives from Research Participants
	Ellen Louise Bucello, Dr Gregory Smith, David Hill, Martha Watts

Launch by The Hon Brad Hazzard MP

Minister for Family and Community Services and Minister for Social Housing

12 December 2016

John Niland Scientia Building, Ritchie Theatre

12.00–12.10	Address
	Ms Robynne Quiggin Deputy Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social Justice Commissioner, Australian Human Rights Commission
12.10–12.25	Perspectives from Service Provider Organisations
	Dr Rebecca Gray , Research Program Manager, Relationships Australia (NSW) Terry Chenery , Chief Executive Officer, Link-Up NSW
12.25–12.45	Research on the Transition to Adulthood from State Care: Implications for Policy and Practice
	Professor Mark Courtney School of Social Service Administration, University of Chicago
12.45–12.50	Vote of Thanks
	Professor Elizabeth Fernandez School of Social Sciences, UNSW
13.00	Lunch served

Speaker biographies

The Hon. (Brad) Bradley Ronald Hazzard MP

Brad Hazzard is the Minister for Family and Community Services and the Minister for Social Housing in the NSW Liberal & Nationals Government.

Brad started his professional life as a graduate science teacher. He later studied law at the University of NSW and was admitted as a solicitor in 1977. In 1984 he was awarded a Master of Laws from the University of Sydney. Brad practised as a solicitor and arbitrator. He entered Parliament in 1991 as the State Member for Wakehurst on Sydney's Northern Beaches. As Minister, Brad has been tasked to drive the NSW Government's policies to safeguard the most vulnerable members of our community and address the cycle of disadvantage.

Before his appointment as Minister for Family and Community Services and Minister for Social Housing in April 2015, he was the Attorney General and Minister for Justice. Prior to that he served as Minister for Planning and Infrastructure, Minister Assisting the Premier on Infrastructure NSW and Leader of the House in the Legislative Assembly.

Robynne Quiggin

Robynne Quiggin is a Wiradjuri lawyer, based in Sydney. She has worked across a number of legal and policy areas of relevance to Indigenous Australians including consumer issues, human rights, governance, the arts and heritage. She is currently the Deputy Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social Justice Commissioner at the Australian Human Rights Commission. Robynne has served on a number of boards including the Arts Law Centre of Australia, Bangarra Dance Theatre, and is the chair of Westpac's Reconciliation Action Plan Committee.

Professor Mark Courtney

Mark E. Courtney is a Professor in the School of Social Service Administration at the University of Chicago. His fields of special interest are child welfare policy and services, the connection between child welfare services and other institutions serving families living in poverty, the transition to adulthood for vulnerable populations, and the professionalisation of social work. Dr. Courtney is a Fellow of the American Academy of Social Work and Social Welfare. Dr. Courtney received the 2015 Distinguished Career Achievement Award from the Society for Social Work and Research. Dr. Courtney has served as a consultant to the federal government, state departments of social services, local public and private child welfare agencies, and the philanthropic community.