About this report

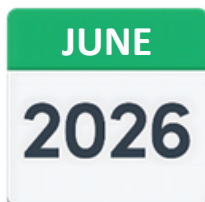

This is the halfway report for Community for Everyone.

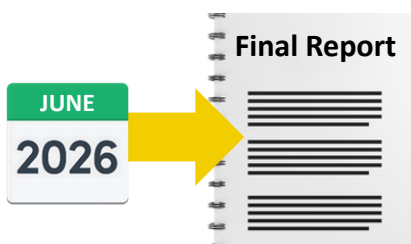

Community for Everyone is a project for people with intellectual disability who may feel lonely.

The project helps people with disability to connect with other people in the community.

The project will finish in June 2026.

We will write a final report at the end.

About the Community for Everyone project

The project is for people with intellectual disability.

The project is in NSW.

The project helps people to:

- connect with people who have the same interests

- be part of community life

- feel like they belong

About the research

People with intellectual disability helped design the project.

This is called co-design.

We collected information about Community for Everyobe.

We listened to the people who were in the project.

We listened to their stories.

Some people used words to tell us their stories.

Some people used their bodies to tell us their stories.

What is working well

The project employed Peer Leaders.

Peer Leaders are people with intellectual disability.

Peer Leaders are paid.

Peer Leaders help make decisions. They help run the project.

We told people about the project in many ways.

This helped people decide if they wanted to be part of the project.

The project helped people with disability and community members get to know each other.

They started doing interesting things together.

People began to feel welcome in the community.

What the project has done so far

The project has found people with intellectual disability and community members who want to be part of the project.

The project helped people meet other people who like to do the same thing.

People tried new things like volunteering in a community group.
