

2023 MCom – Current student transition

Students commencing their MCom in 2022 can still and encouraged to continue following the 2022 MCom curriculum to avoid delays to their program completion. Students who are commencing their program in T3 2022 and received 24 UOC or less in RPL, may consider the 2023 curriculum if they wish, particularly if this does not impact their program duration. Please refer to the below table to review how following the 2023 curriculum may impact your RPL

If you have any queries regarding your program structure or RPL, please contact The Nucleus Student Hub.

**If you are completing a specialisation with RPL for an approved substitution, no further action is required, you do not need to submit any further substitution requests.*

If you are completing a specialisation with RPL received without an approved substitution (e.g “N/A”), please contact The Nucleus Student Hub for further advice.
