How do I know if I am eligible to stand for election and vote?

You are eligible to self-nominate as a candidate for a position and eligible to vote in any ballot for that position if you meet the following criteria:

- Undergraduate students: You are enrolled as a student of the University proceeding towards a bachelor's degree or a non-graduate diploma.
- Postgraduate coursework students: You are enrolled as a student of the University proceeding towards a degree (other than a bachelor's degree or a doctoral or master's degree by research), graduate diploma or graduate certificate.
- Higher Degree Research (HDR) students: You are enrolled as a student proceeding towards a doctoral or master's degree by research.

To be eligible as a candidate for these positions, you must not be employed as an academic or professional staff member of the University at 0.5 FTE or greater.

What else do I need to consider?

- Your Australian Higher Education Graduate Statement (AHEGS) can include a list of co-curricular activities you have undertaken while at university, which includes governance activities such as serving on boards.

- Being a member of the Academic Board is rewarding. However, it does require a time commitment in terms of preparing for and attending meetings. There are 6 Academic Board meetings per year.

How do I self-nominate?

Self-nominations must be made via BigPulse, UNSW's online election provider. If you have not received an email from BigPulse by Wednesday 11 October 2023, please contact elections@unsw.edu.au.

Self-nominations must be lodged with BigPulse before 4pm on Wednesday 18 October 2023.
