Policy Provisions

1. Introduction

- 1.1 To ensure the safety, welfare and wellbeing of all children who are involved in University activities, all activities that involve children must be conducted in accordance with the principles and requirements outlined in this Policy.

2. Principles

- 2.1 The best interests of the child shall be the paramount consideration in the operation of this Policy.
- 2.2 Children must be treated with respect, and all individuals participating in a University activity involving children must adhere to the standards of behaviour set out in this Policy.
- 2.3 The University has zero tolerance of child exploitation, abuse and harassment, and zero tolerance for inaction in respect to such exploitation, abuse or harassment.
- 2.4 The University will mitigate and reduce the risks of child exploitation and abuse by ensuring risk assessment, training and screening measures for any activity that involves work or potential contact with children.
- 2.5 The University will prevent any person from contacting or working with children if they pose an unacceptable risk to children. The University will not knowingly engage, directly or indirectly, any individual that poses a risk to children.
- 2.6 The University will receive and respond to complaints or reports concerning children in a manner that is child-focused.

3. Requirements

Behaviours

- 3.1 Individuals participating in a University activity involving children must adhere to the following behaviours:

 - (c) ensure that valid consent is obtained from a child's parent or guardian prior to undertaking filming or photography involving the child

- (d) not use physical punishment towards any child
- (e) not use language or behaviour towards children that is inappropriate, harassing, abusive, sexually provocative, demeaning or culturally inappropriate

Reporting and Complaints Management

- 3.2 Individuals subject to this Policy must report immediately any suspected or alleged case of child exploitation, abuse, or non-compliance with this Policy, using the appropriate University reporting mechanism – see Complaints at UNSW.
- 3.3 The University's complaint and report handling functions must have clear mechanisms to:
- (a) ensure that information about an actual or suspected child abuse offence is brought to the attention of the NSW Police Force as soon as it is practicable to so, as required under the Crimes Act 1900 (NSW)

 - (e) ensure that mandatory reporting to external regulatory and funding bodies is made in a timely manner

Child protection risk assessments

- 3.4 Where a University activity involves potential contact with children, impacts on children, or working with children, a child protection risk assessment should be undertaken and documented prior to the commencement of the activity, and reviewed annually where the activity continues for greater than 12 months, to:
- (a) identify the level of responsibility for work and contact with children,
 - (b) identify and evaluate the level of risk of harm or abuse to children,
 - (c) develop and implement an appropriate management strategy to prevent identified risks to children, and
 - (d) identify when a valid Working with Children Check (WWCC) or other form of background check is required for individuals participating.

Training

- 3.5 Individuals participating in a University activity involving children should be trained in child protection and fully understand their obligations to protect children when carrying out the activity.

Screening and Background Checking

- 3.6 Individuals participating in a University activity involving children must have a valid

WWCC, however described, where:

- (a) the University activity constitutes “child-related work”, or
- (b) the child protection risk assessment of the University activity identifies that an individual involved in the activity must have a valid WWCC (even if the WWCC is not required by law).

Note – regular teaching for University degree programs (which may include enrolled students who are under 18 years of age) is not “child-related work” and therefore a WWCC is not a requirement for such activities.

- 3.7 Individuals involved in a University activity involving children must have a valid Criminal Record Check where the individual will be in a position that involves contact with children, either under the position description or due to the nature of the work environment, and that:
- (a) the criminal record checks are subject to review by the individual’s manager on an annual basis as an ongoing condition of employment to re-validate suitability
 - (b) the criminal record checks include all countries in which the individual has lived for 12 months or longer over the past five years and all countries of citizenship.
- 3.8 Additional screening measures (such as interview plans that incorporate behavioural-based interview questions) are used when candidates are applying for positions that involve contact with or working with children

Breach of Policy

- 3.9 An individual who is under investigation for conduct in breach of this Policy must not participate in any University activity involving children while such investigation is in progress.
- 3.10 Conduct that is contrary to this Policy is a contravention of the Code of Conduct and Student Code of Conduct (as applicable) and the University may take disciplinary action against the individual concerned in accordance with such Codes.
