1. PREAMBLE

1.1 Purpose

Responsible peer review is critical in maintaining confidence in the outcomes of research. Responsible peer review ensures that research meets accepted disciplinary standards and ensures the dissemination of only relevant findings, free from bias, unwarranted claims, and unacceptable interpretations. Within the context of academic freedom, the principles and professional responsibilities described in this Procedure are fundamental to the integrity of research wherever it occurs.

1.2 Background

This Procedure has been developed to meet the standards set out in the *Australian Code for the Responsible Conduct of Research*¹ and the Singapore Statement on Research Integrity.² This Procedure should be read in conjunction with the UNSW Research Code of Conduct.

This Procedure covers the principles of peer review and the responsibilities of researchers and research trainees undertaking peer review activities.

4. PROCEDURE STATEMENT

4.1 Principles of Responsible Peer Review

The following principles of research integrity apply to responsible peer review:

1. HONESTY in all aspects of research;
2. ACCOUNTABILITY in the conduct of research;
3. PROFESSIONAL COURTESY & FAIRNESS in working with others; and
4. GOOD STEWARDSHIP of research on behalf of others.

3 UNSW Conflict of Interest Policy
4 Australian Code for the Responsible Conduct of Research, Chapter 6
5 Australian Code for the Responsible Conduct of Research
4.2 Responsibilities

The following responsibilities of peer review apply to researchers at all stages of peer review:

4.2.1 Fairness
Be fair and seen to be fair by all involved throughout the peer review process.

4.2.2 Transparency
Remain transparent throughout all stages of the peer review process.

4.2.3 Independence
Provide independent advice, as required, during the peer review process.

4.2.4 Appropriateness and balance
Only undertake peer review if you have appropriate experience, expertise and knowledge.

4.2.5 Participation
Make available time to participate in peer review processes, including mentoring of research trainees, whenever possible.

4.2.6 Confidentiality
Ensure the fairness and robustness of peer review and ensure that the content and/or outcomes of any process are treated as confidential. Unless mentoring research trainees in responsible peer review, do not discuss work under review with others.

4.2.7 Impartiality
Remain objective, impartial, free from bias; do not consider matters that are not relevant to the review criteria. Do not attempt to interfere with the process or seek to influence its outcomes when your own work is undergoing peer review. Notify the relevant organisation for which peer review is being conducted if any conflict of interest arises during the peer review process and seek advice from the organisation (for example, a UNSW Advisor on Research Integrity, funding agency or journal) whether to continue or cease review.

4.2.8 Timeliness
Provide comments in a prompt manner and submit on time. Contact the relevant organisation as soon as possible if unable to complete the review or provide a report, as required, on time.

4.2.9 Quality and excellence
Conduct yourself in accordance with best practices.
4.2.10 Professionalism

Ensure that comments provided are professional and detailed enough to allow appropriate assessment of the work.

4.2.11 Duty to report

Notify the relevant organisation (journal, funding agency, or, if UNSW researcher, then a UNSW Advisor on Research Integrity) immediately if you detect any irregularities, have any concerns about ethical aspects of the work, are aware of substantial similarity between the manuscript and a concurrent submission to another journal or a published article, or suspect that misconduct may have occurred during either the research or the writing and submission of the manuscript. Maintain confidentiality and do not personally investigate the matter further, unless the relevant organisation asks for further information or advice.

5. BREACHES OF THE PROCEDURE

5.1 This Procedure forms part of the UNSW Research Code of Conduct. The Vice-President and Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) may determine that a breach of this Procedure may be dealt with as a breach of the Research Code of Conduct.

5.2 Examples of actions that can be deemed breaches of this Procedure include, but are not limited to:

5.2.1 Intentionally delaying the review process;
5.2.2 Using information from pieces under review without permission;
5.2.3 Breaching applicable confidentiality provisions;
5.2.4 Failing to declare and/or manage any conflict of interest;
5.2.5 Conducting and undertaking peer review without sufficient experience, expertise or knowledge;
5.2.6 Making inappropriate comments on the work of researchers being peer reviewed.

5.3 Alleged breaches of this Procedure are handled in the first instance in accordance with the Procedure for Handling Allegations of Research Misconduct.

6. LEGAL & POLICY FRAMEWORK

This UNSW Procedure has been developed in accordance with the Australian Code for the Responsible Conduct of Research. This Procedure is part of the UNSW research governance framework and should be read with other laws and UNSW policies, procedures and guidelines. The Procedure stands beside but does not exclude or replace other legally binding researcher obligations. No part of this Procedure is a substitute for personal responsibility.

7. IMPLEMENTATION

7.1 Roles & Responsibilities

In addition to the responsibilities and Principles outlined in this Procedure, the following additional responsibilities apply:

7.1.1 Office of the Vice-President and Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research)

The Office of the Vice-President and Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) is responsible for the development, promulgation, implementation and review of this Procedure.

7.1.2 Research Integrity Advisors

Research Integrity Advisors will be available to offer advice and clarification on matters related to this Procedure. Research Integrity Advisors will assist in the local promulgation of this Procedure.

7.1.3 Heads of School & Centre Directors

Heads of School and Centre Directors will assist in the local promulgation of this Procedure. Heads of Schools and Centre Directors are responsible for creating an environment which allows researchers to carry out their responsibilities under this Procedure through the provision of appropriate resources and facilities.

7.1.4 Supervisors of Research Trainees

Supervisors of Research Trainees are responsible for ensuring that research trainees are appropriately trained and mentored in responsible peer review, as set out in this Procedure. When Supervisors are mentoring research trainees, they take responsibility for ensuring confidentiality of the peer review process.

7.2 Support & Advice

The first point of contact for support and advice relevant to this Procedure should be a UNSW Advisor on Research Integrity. Contact details for UNSW Advisors on Research Integrity can be found on the Research Gateway: http://research.unsw.edu.au.

Peer reviewers should seek the advice of a UNSW Research Integrity Advisor or Supervisor if there are any concerns in meeting peer review responsibilities or concerns relating to conflict of interest in peer review.

Information can also be sought from:

- Bronwyn Greene
  Executive Officer to the Vice-President and Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research)
  Email: b.greene@unsw.edu.au or enquiries.research@unsw.edu.au
  Phone: (02) 9385 2983 or (02) 9385 2700

7.3 Communication

Staff will be informed of this Procedure via the DVCR Bulletin, Research Gateway, and news@unsw, as well as through the Committee on Research, Research Integrity Advisors, and Heads of School and Centre Directors.
8. REVIEW
This Procedure is due for review three years from its date of effect.
9. ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

UNSW duly acknowledges the following sources in the development of this Procedure:
