

Leipzig Longitudinal Study of the Aged (LEILA75+)

Principal Investigator

Prof. Dr. med. Steffi G. Riedel-Heller, MPH

Institute of Social Medicine, Occupational Health and Public Health (ISAP)

University of Leipzig

Philipp-Rosenthal-Str. 55

04103 Leipzig

Germany

Email: steffi.riedel-heller@medizin.uni-leipzig.de

Data Contact

Dr. Tobias Luck

Email: tobias.luck@medizin.uni-leipzig.de

Summary

Setting:	Leipzig, Germany
Start Date:	1997
End Date:	2014
Participants:	1265 individuals aged 75+ years
Assessment Schedule:	Baseline and 5 follow-up assessments with 1.5-year intervals and a 6th (long-term) after 8 years.
Measures:	(1) Neuropsychiatric assessments of dementia, MCI and cognitive decline as well as depression; (2) Broad range of socio-demographic and lifestyle factors, risk and protective factors for cognitive deficits and dementia, comorbidity

Further Information

- Riedel-Heller SG, Busse A, Aurich C, Matschinger H, Angermeyer MC. Prevalence of dementia according to DSM-III-R and ICD-10: results of the Leipzig Longitudinal Study of the Aged (LEILA75+) Part 1. Br J Psychiatry. 2001 Sep; 179:250-4.
- Riedel-Heller SG, Busse A, Aurich C, Matschinger H, Angermeyer MC. Prevalence of dementia according to DSM-III-R and ICD-10: results of the Leipzig Longitudinal Study of the Aged (LEILA75+) Part 2. Br J Psychiatry. 2001 Sep; 179:255-60.

