Summary of the Course

Subject Area: Media

In Production Studio you will work with an industry client to develop a project to realisation, identifying your area of specialisation and consolidating the skills to take you towards employment in the media industries. The main emphasis in this course is practical production, augmented by critical and creative thinking within a range of specialisations including Animation, Video Production, Interaction Design or Sound. Honing your skills in a 'real-world' industry context, you will produce original creative work ready for inclusion in your professional practice show reel and portfolio.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate skill in professional practice, organisation, time management, communication and a personal production style
2. Respond to critical feedback in a professional and creative way.
3. Demonstrate an understanding of the relationship of form, content and audience in a media production.
4. Articulate their place in the wider Media industry

Teaching Strategies

Production Studio is designed to ready you for future employment in the media production industry. A professional production studio environment will be created within course rooms.

You will be supported to work on a specific professional project provided by a client. Classes will be structured to support your production methods associated with your selected client brief.

You will have opportunities to:

- meet with the clients and discuss the brief/s.
- engage in activities to promote creative and technical skill development.
- become immersed in practical production research.
- work collaboratively (or in teams where necessary).
- receive critical feedback and support from the lecturer, peers and the client.
- pitch an idea and prepare a project proposal in response to the Client brief.

You will be encouraged to take responsibility for your professional practice by:

- preparing a professional proposal including a production schedule and budget.
- organising meetings with your client.
- booking production spaces and equipment.
- developing and gathering all the resources you require to get the job done.
- participating in regular informal feedback session.

Attendance Requirements

This is an intensive practical production course and it is essential that students attend all timetabled class session and associated production meetings. A student is expected to attend all face-to-face contact hours.

If a student experiences illness, misadventure or other occurrence that makes absence from a class/activity unavoidable, or expects to be absent from a forthcoming class/activity, they should seek permission from the Course Authority, and where applicable, their request should be accompanied by an original or certified copy of a medical certificate or other form of appropriate evidence.

The minimum attendance requirement for this course is 80% supported by documentation explaining absences.

Course Evaluation and Development

A combination of the following approaches will be used to gather feedback about the course. UNSW MyExperience course and teaching evaluation and improvement process. Anecdotal Evaluation, where students from time to time during the semester are engaged in informal discussions about the course. Observational Evaluation where the lecturer (convener or tutor) regularly observes the effectiveness of classes and lecture and modifies the course content and delivery in response to those observations. Past evaluation findings have been acted upon in the following ways. It was identified through feedback that students benefited when the course assessment tasks were aligned with needs of the client project and client project deadlines. In response to that feedback all assessment tasks relate directly to the client project. It was identified in past feedback that there was a need for students to have more in class time to work on group projects and individual projects. In response to that feedback there is more time allocated for independent & group research tasks within the weekly course structure. There is now more class time to work with other students, engaging in creative problem solving. It was identified in past feedback that an active and interactive classroom environment was most engaging and beneficial to learning. In response to that feedback lecture activities have been redesigned to encourage greater participation and student engagement with course content with an emphasis on self-directed learning.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course's Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Late Assessment Penalties

Students are responsible for the submission of assessment tasks by the required dates and times. Depending on the extent of delay in the submission of an assessment task past the due date and time, one of the following late penalties will apply unless special consideration or a blanket extension due to a technical outage is granted. For the purpose of late penalty calculation, a 'day' is deemed to be each 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline for submission.

Work submitted less than 10 days after the stipulated deadline is subject to a deduction of 5% of the total awardable mark from the mark that would have been achieved if not for the penalty for every day past the stipulated deadline for submission. That is, a student who submits an assignment with a stipulated deadline of 4:00pm on 13 May 2016 at 4:10pm on 14 May 2016 will incur a deduction of 10%.

Task with a non-percentage mark

If the task is marked out of 25, then late submission will attract a penalty of a deduction of 1.25 from the mark awarded to the student for every 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline. Example: A student submits an essay 48 hours and 10 minutes after the stipulated deadline. The total possible mark for the essay is 25. The essay receives a mark of 17. The student's mark is therefore $17 - [25 (0.05 \times 3)] = 13.25$

Task with a percentage mark

If the task is marked out of 100%, then late submission will attract a penalty of a deduction of 5% from the mark awarded to the student for every 24-hour period (or part thereof) past the stipulated deadline. Example: A student submits an essay 48 hours and 10 minutes after the stipulated deadline. The essay is marked out of 100%. The essay receives a mark of 68. The student's mark is therefore $68 - 15 = 53$

Work submitted 10 to 19 days after the stipulated deadline will be assessed and feedback provided but a mark of zero will be recorded. If the work would have received a pass mark but for the lateness and the work is a compulsory course component (hurdle requirement), a student will be deemed to have met that requirement;

Work submitted 20 or more days after the stipulated deadline will not be accepted for assessment and will receive no feedback, mark or grade. If the assessment task is a compulsory component of the course a student will receive an Unsatisfactory Fail (UF) grade as a result of unsatisfactory performance in an essential component of the course.

Supplementary assessments

The form of the supplementary assessment need not be identical to the original assessment but it must assess the same learning outcomes.

A supplementary assessment will be offered to a student who fails an assessment task in either of the following circumstances:

- Supplementary assessment will be offered to any student who fails an assessment task if their request for Special Consideration for that task is approved. The mark awarded for the assessment task will be based solely on the supplementary assessment.
- Where a student fails an assessment task in a course in the final term of their program, but does not have an approved Special Consideration for that task, supplementary assessment will still be offered in cases where passing the task would have resulted in the student passing the course and completing the program.

Schools may choose to offer supplementary assessments under other circumstances than those listed above. Decisions by Schools to offer supplementary assessments under other circumstances than those listed above should be guided by local processes to promote principled and consistent decision-making.

The mark awarded for a supplementary assessment, in the absence of Special Consideration, will be capped:

- Where a supplementary assessment is provided for a student who fails an assessment task in any course, the final mark awarded for the assessment task will be capped at 50%.
- Where a supplementary assessment is provided to a student with a Fail based on the overall course result, the final mark for the course will be capped at 50%.

This information is also available at:

<https://www.arts.unsw.edu.au/current-students/academic-information/protocols-guidelines/>

Special Consideration Applications

You can apply for special consideration when illness or other circumstances interfere with your assessment performance.

Sickness, misadventure or other circumstances beyond your control may:

- * Prevent you from completing a course requirement,
- * Keep you from attending an assessable activity,
- * Stop you submitting assessable work for a course,
- * Significantly affect your performance in assessable work, be it a formal end-of-term examination, a class test, a laboratory test, a seminar presentation or any other form of assessment.

For further details in relation to Special Consideration including "When to Apply", "How to Apply" and "Supporting Documentation" please refer to the Special Consideration website:

<https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration>

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
