Summary of the Course

Reviewers and arts journalists play a crucial role in the arts. What they write informs the critical reception and commercial success of an artistic work. Their writing also shapes the legacy of an artist's work. Reviewing the Arts explores a variety of writing modes in arts journalism, including interviews, previews and reviews. This is an interdisciplinary and industry-articulated course that provides opportunities to engage with writing practices across many forms including theatre and performance, dance, music, literature, visual arts and film. Reviewing the Arts helps prepare you for freelance/portfolio careers as artists, journalists and administrators in the arts.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Identify the mode, character and elements of an example of arts journalism in the context of 20th and 21st century practices of the same.
2. Apply writing skills in response to art works across a diversity of disciplines, demonstrating the elements of description, analysis/interpretation and evaluation.
3. Critically assess examples of arts journalism against examples of best practice and innovation.

Teaching Strategies

The teaching strategies include the delivery of critical and historical content via a lectures series, tutorials for practicing writing and examining written materials, and set tasks for engaging with case studies across a range of art forms. The lecture series content will cover writing on theatre, performance, film, music and the visual arts, critical approaches to the same, and specific modalities such as interviews, previews and reviews. Key figures from across the 20th and 21st century will provide case studies of important voices in arts reviewing and commentary. The tutorials, set homework and online blogs will create opportunities to practice writing modes (interviews, previews, reviews) and receive critical feedback from lecturers and peers. Other tutorial activities such as commentary on set readings, descriptive writing tasks, persuasive writing tasks, and analysis of a particular writer's style or piece of writing on an art work, will flesh out approaches to writing in the arts. The online component of the course will prepare students for the mediatised capacities and challenges for arts writing.

Assessment

WORK SUBMITTED:

All citations must include page references. eg (Author surname Year, page no.) (Smith 2000, 5)

In-text referencing or footnotes are acceptable.

Full bibliography at the end of your research papers is required.

Unreliable webpage references are not acceptable, eg. Wikipedia.

Assessment 1: Workshop Activities

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: n/a

Details:

2-4 workshop activities will be designated as assessment tasks and will be modeled in class before assessment.

Assessed by rubric.

Additional details:

In-class assessments will take place in tutorials in Weeks 3 and 7.

You will be assessed based on the following criteria.

criteria	Needs work	satisfactory	good	Very good	excellent understanding of the modes, character and elements of various reviewing styles ability to identify the various elements and strategies of various reviewing styles self-reflection and assessment. expression originality in the framing of responses to the tasks.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students do not see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 2: Portfolio of Reviews

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: 2000 words

Details:

2000 words

Feedback will be ongoing and assessed by rubric.

Additional details:

You will create a portfolio of reviews and other associated writing tasks (interviews, previews, creative writing tasks) undertaken during the workshop/seminars, lectures and as set homework. These will be workshopped in class time and feedback will be ongoing via both lecturers and peers. You will choose 2-6 samples of your writing equalling around 2000w in total, including pieces of varying lengths and modes. These will be submitted for assessment.

Please include primarily arts related writing with one other type eg. Unrelated opinion piece, creative writing or Instagram review (300w equivalent). Do not include work already assessed, but you can use assessment tasks to write new reviews. Please see workshops week-by-week for in-class writing tasks and describe the task used above each piece submitted.

Feedback will be ongoing and a final assessment will be provided marking the portfolio against a grid listing the assessment criteria:

Timetable

Date	Type	Content
Week 0: 25 May - 29 May	Homework	Introduce yourselves
Week 1: 1 June - 5 June	Lecture	Lecturer: Erin Brannigan Introduction: Contexts and connoisseurship Between description, interpretation/analysis and evaluation. Overview of assessments.
	Seminar	Sharing work from the Lecture block.
Week 2: 8 June - 12 June	Lecture	Lecturer: Erin Brannigan Approaching your subject; finding the language for works of art, music, performance, film and literature. From a descriptive tradition to the age of 'post-descriptive' criticism.
	Seminar	Review of writing done in lecture. Working into discipline/interest specific groups and set task for next seminar
Week 3: 15 June - 19 June	Lecture	Lecturer: Erin Brannigan Review of texts on the online forum for reviewing. Class debate on the role of the critic in the digital era. Preparation for workshop assessment.
	Seminar	Workshop assessment 1: what are your habits regarding accessing and using reviews to make decisions about what you see and do? Working in groups, present a rationale for 'why' one particular user habit is prevalent and 'what' its broadest effects are. You will be assessed as a group.
Week 4: 22 June - 26 June	Lecture	Guest Lecturer - Jane Mills: What we can learn from film reviewing and the difference between reviewing and criticism.
	Seminar	Break into groups of two/three and compare each other's work. Discuss as a class.

Week 5: 29 June - 3 July	Lecture	How has reviewing changed over time? Aesthetic judgement now and then. PHILISOPHIES
	Seminar	Working in pairs on the same example, write a crap review and a good review of a contemporary work of art in your media (music, dance, theatre, art) that can be accessed online. Then write a critique of each other's. Submit your reviews and your critique of your partner's writing for assessment at the end of the class.
Week 6: 6 July - 10 July	Homework	Break week
	Homework	Break week
Week 7: 13 July - 17 July	Lecture	Lecturer Erin Brannigan Reviewing literary texts: from Woolf to Wood and beyond. Reading analysis: What are the claims of the piece of writing, implicitly or explicitly? What strategies and techniques does it use to do this? Workshop for seminar assessment.
	Seminar	Workshop Assessment 2: Reading analysis: What are the claims of the piece of writing, implicitly or explicitly? What strategies and techniques does it use to do this?
Week 8: 20 July - 24 July	Lecture	What are the major cultural and aesthetic shifts occurring in your field? What is the role of the 'commentator' or critic in this instance? Return to the case of Minimalism.
	Seminar	Writing Task: Starting with a revolutionary, canonical work of art from your discipline, and working in your discipline groups, think through the fundamentals of that discipline and how the example handles/reimagines those fundamentals. This will revisit questions of connoisseurship, skills in descriptive writing, and a focus on composition.
Week 9: 27 July - 31 July	Lecture	On the interview/preview. Writing Task: Choose an upcoming performance/release, and working in pairs, undertake research to support an interview/preview piece on the artist and the chosen work.
	Seminar	Present interview/preview research in point form to the class. Course evaluation.

Week 10: 3 August - 7 August	Lecture	Lecturer: Erin Brannigan Beyond words: alternative methods for online criticism: post-descriptive methods such as the instagram review, the photo essay and the video essay.
	Homework	Sharing work done in lecture block.

Course Evaluation and Development

This course will be reviewed across what will be a multi-disciplinary cohort using CATEI and a customised Course Experience Questionnaire. We will also have the benefit of a guest lecturer to contribute to the review.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au . Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course's Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
