Summary of the Course

Subject Area: Music

Music studio teaching is the gateway course for the Music Pedagogy pathway in the Bachelor of Music programme. The course is focused on instrumental and vocal teaching and learning in the private studio setting. You will make formal observations of expert teachers at work in the studio. Parallel to this, you will gain practical experience by teaching and presenting aspects of your specialist instrumental and vocal skills, with peer evaluation and support; you will also learn to appraise, evaluate and apply aspects of professional and research knowledge as you develop your individual approaches to practice.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Explain and demonstrate the workings of their specialist instruments or voice, and a range of fundamental musical concepts.
2. Recognise and critically assess a variety of approaches to the teaching and learning of music, through reflection on their own experience, professional literature and observations of studio lessons.
3. Understand, evaluate and apply aspects of current research focused on instrumental and vocal learning and teaching.

Teaching Strategies

Students will be given lecture input on issues shared by a range of specialist instruments or voice, including relevant acoustic properties, mechanical functions, and fundamental musical concepts. These will be complemented by student presentations in laboratory settings, in which they will introduce, demonstrate, discuss and answer questions about their own instruments. Students will participate in workshops, by giving individual lessons to another student on their specialist instrument or voice, with peer and tutor feedback. They will also have the opportunity to lead the class group by teaching a skill. Lecture input will help to prepare students for observations of expert tutors, by introducing issues and methods drawn from professional and research literature.

Assessment

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
