Course Details

Credit Points 6

Summary of the Course

This is a practical music course that offers you an opportunity to participate in two self-selected ensembles. The Music Program offers a wide choice of small and large ensembles that include classical, jazz, electro-acoustic ensembles and world music. You may seek approval to form your own ensemble under the supervision of a member of the music staff; approval is strictly based on merit and staff availability. Music Ensemble advances your performance skills, the study of various ensemble styles and practices, and the relevant ensemble literature. More broadly, the course is intended to develop your experience of music making as: a musical act, to extend your musical knowledge and understanding; a social act, to develop your capacity to negotiate and contribute to a group outcome; and as a personal act, to develop a sense of agency, self-achievement and self-confidence in group music making. The course normally includes participation in 2 x 2hr ensemble rehearsals per week. Upon completion, you will be able to demonstrate the musical, social and personal skills needed to participate effectively in ensemble playing leading to a public performance.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate the techniques and musical stylistic knowledge of the chosen ensembles.
2. Apply both team skills and individual initiative in rehearsals and public performance.
3. Evaluate and communicate the musical and social experiences of participating in two different ensembles.

Teaching Strategies

Music Ensemble will enable students to develop collaborative and leadership skills in music performance. Teaching focuses on practical music making in two different ensemble rehearsals, each normally two hours per week. Methods of musical instruction vary depending on the type of the ensemble; both oral and written forms of musical transmission will be used in accordance with relevant cultural practices and contexts. The teaching rationale for the course reflects the position that twenty-first century musicians require collaborative skills and leadership skills as well as inter-genre and inter-cultural capabilities.

Assessment

80% attendance is the minimum requirement for each ensemble.

Ensemble participants must attend all rehearsals and public performances. Keep in mind that:

- (1) Some ensembles require auditions prior to week 1.
- (2) Several require you to have an instrument that you can play.
- (3) Some have limitations in number of people who can be accepted.
- (4) Public/Main performances and additional rehearsals are required outside the regular rehearsal times.

Students must ensure that these additional rehearsals do not clash with other courses/ensembles.

Detailed information about each ensemble is listed here:

<https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/music-students/music-ensembles/>. Only approved ensembles joined in the current term can be used for course assessment.

Relevant information about each ensemble is usually updated by O-Week and students should check for any updates at this time, and if further information is required, please contact the School of Arts and Media Office:

<https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/contact-us>

Students selecting their two ensembles for this course do so on the understanding that they have read and understood this information.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time

- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
