Summary of the Course

This course develops specialised knowledge of a range of music styles including those derived from particular historical periods, genres and approaches to music interpretation. This knowledge will be acquired through a close study of musical scores, a wide range of selected repertoire, recordings, DVDs and musical scholarship supporting performance. Students will be expected to demonstrate an ability to present a stylistically informed performance with careful consideration of relevant technical and interpretative issues.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate solid technical skills, informed musical judgement and conviction in performance.
2. Display professionalism and originality in fashioning and realising a performance project.
3. Articulate sophisticated ideas relating to a broad range of musical and performance styles.

Teaching Strategies

The rationale for this course is primarily that graduates will require a very high level of performance skill and complementary repertorial and interpretive knowledge in a self-selected area of music making. Therefore, a series of specialist masterclasses conducted by expert instrumental and vocal practitioners will be deployed to complement workshops that examine and reflect on issues arising from the masterclasses through class discussion and student performance-based demonstrations. A series of lectures will introduce key resources and approaches to analysis for performers and expand knowledge of a wide range of repertoire.
Assessment

Further detail pertaining to assessment for this course will be discussed in class in Week 1 of T3.

Assessment 1: In-class Lecture-Recital

Assessment length: 10-12 minutes, including performance, spoken presentation and PowerPoint slides or other creative approach to organising information.

Submission notes: live or online presentation, depending on COVID-19 public health advice

Due date: Week 5

10 minutes.

Feedback: Written report.

Additional details

This 10-12 minutes-long presentation will include both a performance of repertoire selection (or original material) and a spoken presentation which will contextualise the repertoire/material chosen. Students are advised to use PowerPoint, animated slides, podcast techniques or any other creative formats of their choosing to deliver their presentations. This presentation will encapsulate and draw together elements of your creative project and its development to date, including research, conceptual thinking and brainstorming maps, creative journal entries, aesthetic influences and any other material relevant to your project.

Assessment 2: Research paper on selected topic

Submission notes: written assignment or podcast submitted via Moodle

Due date: End of week 8

1000-1500 words.

Feedback provided via LMS.

Additional details

Research Paper Summary:

In the research paper (1000-1500 words) you will explore and investigate a non-traditional arts/performance project/s created and realised by an established/professional artist or arts organisation in the community, Australia-wide or internationally.
You will research a project involving non-traditional and original presentation format, such as, for instance, multimedia or interdisciplinary approach to performance; unique and inventive use of non-traditional performance venues or staging approaches; original, creative and unorthodox concept; non-orthodox audience engagement and participation; active community engagement or engagement with social/political issues through performance; or an original adaptation to an online performance medium in recent times.

Once you have identified the project and the artist/organisation that speaks to you and your particular creative aspirations and models for you artistic values you’d like to emulate, you will learn as much as you can about the project through your own research and will subsequently contact the key creative/s involved in the project for an interview.

You will devise a set of interview questions that best target the information you would like to glean from the interviewee. The possible interview questions will be workshopped in class once the projects have been identified and the artists contacted.

Your paper will detail the aspects of the project and what appealed to you about it; elucidate ways in which researching this project has impacted on your own creative trajectory in realising and delivering your creative project in this course; and discuss the learnings from interviewing the ‘maker’ of the project.

Assessment 3: Public performance

Assessment length: Approx 15-18 minutes
Submission notes: public performance project delivered live or online depending on COVID-related public health advice
Due date: Weeks 9/10/11

15 minutes.

Direct feedback following performance.

Additional details

The public performance project will be an original, conceptualised and thematically curated program which may take the form of a solo performance, installation, interdisciplinary collaboration, or other approved format. Conventional recital programs in conventional performance settings are not accepted for this assessment task. To excel in this assessment, the performance project will be a genuinely creative undertaking demonstrating artistic, intellectual and aesthetic curiosity, imagination and risk. Composers are encouraged to write a new work for the group if possible and viable, or draw on modern technologies to devise imaginative and innovative work.
Attendance Requirements

Please note that lecture recordings are not available for this course. Students are strongly encouraged to attend all classes and contact the Course Authority to make alternative arrangements for classes missed.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course’s Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: Using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This includes copying materials, ideas or concepts from a book, article, report or other written document, presentation, composition, artwork, design, drawing, circuitry, computer program or software, website, internet, other electronic resource, or another person’s assignment without appropriate acknowledgement.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original information, structure and/or progression of ideas of the original without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: Working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student for the purpose of them plagiarising, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): Submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices

The UNSW Academic Skills support offers resources and individual consultations. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study. One of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study. Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library
