Course Name: Child Development: Psychological and Social Perspectives (Primary)
Credit Points: 6 units of credit (uoc)
Workload: Includes 150 hours including class contact hours, readings, class preparation, assessment, follow up activities, etc.
Schedule: http://classutil.unsw.edu.au/EDST_T1.html
Wednesdays 1pm-4pm

SUMMARY OF COURSE
How do primary-aged students develop and learn? What, and who, informs their learning? What is the role of cognition, motivation, identity, language, gender, culture, and ability? Using educational psychology as a foundation, you will explore psychological and social perspectives on child development and learning during the primary years of schooling. In order to develop your understanding of young students and how they learn, this course will focus on integrating research findings, theoretical positions, and practical aspects of child development. Specifically, you will be challenged to consider critical developmental issues in relation to your within-school experiences. Completion of this course will enable you to link learning theories and educational practice as a basis for ongoing professional reflection and development of effective primary school pedagogy.

THE MAIN WAYS IN WHICH THE COURSE HAS CHANGED SINCE LAST TIME AS A RESULT OF STUDENT FEEDBACK

- Increase of face-to-face time. Last year the course ran weekly lectures for 90 minutes with 90 minutes of follow-up online participation. This year the course will have 3 hour face-to-face lectures weekly. Online participation is still required this year through the course Moodle page to supplement the weekly sessions to meet the course hurdle requirement.
- Location. Last year the course met off-campus weekly after one of the three INSTEP days. The program has reduced INSTEP to two days per week which will coincide with off-campus methods courses. As such, this course meets on-campus this year.
- Course hurdle requirement. The number of ‘4321 list’ responses required has been decreased in order to reduce the burden on students.
- Program hurdle requirement. Additional scaffolding and class time have been allocated for Microteaching. Last year the expectation was to video-record Microteaching lessons in small groups outside of class time. This year the Microteaching requirement will take place within class time.

EDST5151: Child Development: Psychological and Social Perspectives (Primary), UNSW
Assessment 1 (Case Study). Additional scaffolding for Assessment 1 has been allocated in the course structure. Given the increase in face-to-face time this year, weekly sessions will include small and large group opportunities to work through case study examples.

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH
Primary-aged students bring with them a broad range of developmental considerations that impact learning. As a teacher, your own life experiences and perspectives on learning impact your interactions and teacher-student relationships. Understanding child development through psychological and social lenses as well as through the filter of your own background can help promote students’ academic and non-academic successes. Given this awareness, it is critical that teachers draw upon a developmental framework. The content and teaching approach of this course will help you frame your own practice in a developmental way – one that can promote further focus, refinement, and reflection throughout your teaching career.

5. TEACHING STRATEGIES
You can expect a combination of lectures, group activities, and guest speakers to provide opportunities for critical study and reflection on research literature and related issues. The weekly face-to-face sessions will include explicit instruction and a range of interactive activities designed to help you clarify, apply, and explore key themes experienced in your INSTEP placements. Since research shows that learning is best activated by interaction (and not passive consumption), attendance and active participation in the sessions will provide the foundation for your own understanding and development in this course. Pre-session readings and/or activities will be assigned in order to enrich engagement with the course content. In addition, supplemental materials and discussion opportunities will be provided through the course Moodle page to help foster interest and support your learning.

ASSESSMENT DESCRIPTIONS:

Course Hurdle Requirement (Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory): 4321 Lists
This assessment task requires you to respond to readings and content discussed during our course. To satisfy this ongoing hurdle requirement, please complete the following for at least 4 out of the 9 opportunities indicated in our course schedule.

A. Prepare your list. In response the weekly readings and session, please prepare a list containing the following:
   • 4 main points
   • 3 implications for teaching in your future classroom
   • 2 questions/ concerns/ criticisms/ responses
   • 1 response to another student’s question or comment in class

B. Upload your list. Locate the 4321 Forum on our Moodle course page and upload each list by the specified date.
   • You will have 9 opportunities to post your lists
   • You must post 4 lists by the respective dates in order to meet this course requirement

One of your 4 lists must be in response to Week 1. This is the first 4321 of the course that will address the readings and session material on the introduction to educational psychology and child development. This session takes place on 20 February so you will submit your 4321 by 5pm on the following Tuesday (26 February).
Assessment 1 (40%): Case Study Report

Throughout your tutorials, you will have the opportunity to respond to a range of case studies within your small community of practice group. Your case study assessment task requires you to independently respond to two teaching and learning case study scenarios (to be provided). Your response should be persuasive, written in first person narrative, and consist of two equal parts (1000 words for each case study).

When responding to each case study, please address the following:

- The identification of possible developmental factors and related processes likely to have contributed to creating the case study ‘problem.’
- An outline of a course of action to address this problem, whether it is to re-engage the student, or modify the teacher’s approach to the situation. Include the beliefs, values, and experiences that information your course of action.
- Integrate related research and sources of information that support the developmental factors apparent in the case description and the subsequent course of action you outline.

Assessment 2 (60%): Assessment Portfolio

For this assessment task, you will compile an assessment portfolio through a number of steps. Although this is your final assessment, please start this task early!

1. Choose a year or stage level and define according to at least one developmental theorist and research related to that particular developmental area (e.g., physical, cognitive, language, social, emotional, moral).
2. Gather and write descriptions of 5 assessments that could help provide you with developmental information on one student at the chosen year or stage level of development.
3. Choose 2 or 3 of these assessments to trial with one student.
4. After obtaining permission from the classroom teacher in your INSTEP placement, trial the chosen assessments with one student.
5. Write-up the results of your trial and overall reflections. Be sure to include a developmental description of the student before presenting your results. This should include an overall developmental description, with specific attention to the developmental focus you are testing.
6. Format your report (approximately 15 pages; double-spaced) according to the additional requirements and template available on our course Moodle page.

Program Hurdle Requirement (Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory): Microteaching

Microteaching is the planning, presentation and evaluation of a lesson over a shortened period of time (a 10-minute mini-lesson). It is a critical aspect of this course as it provides you with the opportunity to focus on how you impact student learning through your interactions while also demonstrating key competencies specific to your content area. The microteaching component of the course will not only allow for your demonstration but also provide the important opportunity to observe other student teachers and engage in peer review. To prepare for this assessment, examples will be presented in class.

To meet this program hurdle requirement, you must complete the following three components:

1. A detailed lesson plan* using the prescribed template (see handbook) and include:
   - a statement of expected learning outcomes
   - how you will know if your interactions with students impact their learning
     - explicit evidence (e.g., pre- and post-test, strategic questions, journals, etc)
     - implicit evidence (e.g., observations, student responses, etc.)

* The lesson plan must be specific to the methods in Term 1: Mathematics or English.

* All students must submit their proposed lesson plan at least one week prior to the presentation (upload to Moodle). If you are unsure of any aspect please ask for help.
2. A 10-minute mini-lesson

You will teach your mini-lesson to your peers during one of our sessions on an assigned date. Your mini-lesson will be video-recorded as evidence of meeting the requirement.

Your mini-lesson will be assessed according to the attached criteria (feedback form), and will be graded as Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory.

Note: Any student whose first microteaching episode is judged as unsatisfactory will be given a further (one only) opportunity to gain a satisfactory grade. If a student is assessed as unsatisfactory in microteaching s/he will not be permitted to undertake Professional Experience until the key concerns have been resolved.

3. Peer Feedback

You will provide written feedback (using the attached feedback form) on at least two mini-lessons taught by your peers. You must:

- discuss your feedback with each peer
- provide a copy of the written feedback to each peer
- upload a copy of the written feedback to our Moodle course page

Recommendations for success:

- Start planning now!
- Ask your English or Mathematics instructor for help
- Read widely on effective classroom strategies
- Practise aspects of their mini-lesson with a small group of peers prior to presenting in class

Submission of assessments

Students are required to follow their lecturer’s instructions when submitting their work for assessment. All assessment will be submitted online via Moodle by 5pm. Students are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy. Please see the Student Policies and Procedures for information regarding submission, extensions, special consideration, late penalties and hurdle requirements etc. https://education.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/courses/course-outlines/
Specific Criteria

Understanding of the question or issue and the key concepts involved
- demonstrates knowledge, respect, and understanding of the differing social, ethnic, cultural and/or religious backgrounds of students and how these factors may affect learning
- identifies the relevant theoretical frameworks and understandings of the phenomena described in each case study
- identifies the key individual and developmental influences on student learning

Depth of analysis and/or critique in response to the task
- expresses a deep understanding of the theoretical and practical implications of each case study
- critically considers the limitations of the possible solutions to the problem presented in each case study

Familiarity with and relevance of professional and/or research literature used to support response
- references specifically to material, research, and ideas presented in the course
- integrates a range of research and professional literature to support the application of particular strategies (distinct from required course readings)

Structure and organisation of response
- organises with clarity and coherence
- applies appropriate weighting to each part: Part 1 (Case Study 1) = 1000 words, Part 2 (Case Study 2) = 1000 words. References

Presentation of response according to appropriate academic and linguistic conventions
- uses APA 6th for clarity, consistency and appropriateness of quoting, paraphrasing, attributing sources of information, and listing references
- writing is clear with appropriate sentence and paragraph structure, vocabulary use, punctuation, and English (Australian) spelling
- presents a comprehensive response within the required word length (2000 +/- 5% words plus reference list)

A. Teachers know their subject content and how to teach that content to their students (AITSL Standard 2)
- Was the lesson or unit of work relevant to the needs of the students and based on the appropriate syllabus/document requirements? (1.3.1, 2.3.1)
- Was knowledge of relevant concepts, topics and themes demonstrated, including ATSI perspectives? (2.1.1, 2.4.1)
- Were relevant linguistic structures and features and literacy/numeracy knowledge and skills integrated into the lesson? (2.5.1)
- Was a clear and coherent sequence of activities undertaken to engage and support the learning of all students within a class or cohort? (2.2.1, 3.2.1)
- Were the teaching resources and materials suitable for the aims of the lesson? (2.1.1)
- Were tasks required of students modelled and scaffolded? (2.1.1, 3.3.1)

B. Teachers plan for and implement effective teaching and learning (AITSL Standard 3)
- Were challenging yet realistic and achievable goals in teaching and learning activities planned? Were these explicitly articulated in the lesson plan to students? (3.1.1)
- Were instructions, explanations and questioning techniques effective? (3.3.1)
- Were verbal and non-verbal communication strategies used effectively in the classroom to support student understanding of content and encourage participation and engagement of students? (3.5.1)
- Were students’ understanding continually monitored and students’ achievements of the learning outcomes noted? (3.6.1)

C. Teachers create and maintain supportive and safe learning environments (AITSL Standard 4)
- Was rapport with the learners established and responsiveness to their needs in the class demonstrated? (4.1.1)
- Were activities well organised and direction clear? (4.2.2)
- Was respect and appreciation of others demonstrated through active listening, being accessible to all students and exhibiting a caring attitude? (4.1.1, 4.4.1, 1.1.1)
