Units of Credit 6

Workload

150 hours including class contact hours, readings, class preparation, assessment, follow up activities, etc.

Summary of the Course

In this course, you will have an opportunity to build on or extend interests developed in your specialist area of education by undertaking a self-directed small scale individual capstone project, supported by a supervising academic, in small groups with other students from the same specialisation. The project must demonstrate synthesis and application of knowledge and skills developed in coursework components of your specialisation to address a particular problem or issue in a previous or current work context.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate advanced understanding of a topic of interest in education.
2. Locate and critically evaluate the full range of references relevant to a topic of interest in education.
3. Use appropriate research methodology to obtain and analyse data in an investigation of a topic of interest in education, and report and interpret the significance of the findings in relation to underlying theory and practice,

Teaching Strategies

Rationale: This course is being offered to provide students with an opportunity to undertake a small-scale capstone project in a specific area of their specialisation in education. The course will also enable students to develop a deeper reflective approach to education and demonstrate the ability to analyse, evaluate, synthesise and apply knowledge and skills from earlier stages of their program.

Teaching strategies: EDST5888 is a self-directed course. Optional group meetings at the beginning (Week 1) and towards the end (Week 10) of the term organised by supervising lecturer. These meetings will cover general issues in conducting small-scale projects in your area of specialisation, as well as the preparation required (eg. developing a project proposal and a clear feasible plan for implementation). The initial session is designed to stimulate student thinking because there are a number of issues that students will need to address so that a feasible project can be developed. In the follow up meeting individual/group discussions and peer mentorship/support will be utilised to increase the capacity and capability of students for conducting small-scale projects. These activities will occur in a climate that is supportive and inclusive of all learners.

Timetable

Date/Module	Type	Content
1	Module	During O-week, complete the orientation activities on Moodle to become familiar with the structure of the course, the nature of the project, and how to work with your advisor. During this process, you will be placed in a group based on your specialisation, where you will discuss the project with your peers and receive feedback from an advisor.
2	Module	Prepare your project proposal (1,000 words). The proposal demonstrates the feasibility of your project in scholarly terms (e.g., conceptual approach, methods, enquiry question) and practical terms (e.g., ability to complete the project within the time frame). Your advisor must approve the project proposal before proceeding. This is due within the first few weeks of term.
3	Module	Complete the proposed project
4	Module	Submit the final project report

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: Using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This includes copying materials, ideas or concepts from a book, article, report or other written document, presentation, composition, artwork, design, drawing, circuitry, computer program or software, website, internet, other electronic resource, or another person's assignment without appropriate acknowledgement.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original information, structure and/or progression of ideas of the original without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: Working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student for the purpose of them plagiarising, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): Submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices

The UNSW Academic Skills support offers resources and individual consultations. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study. One of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study. Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library
