Summary of the Course

Subject Area: International Studies

This course asks you to evaluate a number of contemporary debates using knowledge gained throughout the BInST program and overseas exchange year (or equivalent). Particular attention will be paid to the grand challenges facing society and longstanding obstacles to equity that are now impacting issues such as global poverty, aid delivery, development, migration, and good governance. You will explore competing forces and dynamics and the responses to them by governments, institutions and peoples worldwide. It will also provide you a chance to hone your professional skills and knowledge base in relation to careers in international studies.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. identify key dynamics and processes that are shaping interdependencies (e.g., economic, environmental, human development, political, security) in today's world.
2. evaluate these dynamics and processes in relation to a specific country or world region.
3. integrate analytical skills, writing capabilities, problem solving and presentation skills in the context of international studies.
4. match professional competencies and career relevant knowledge to practice in international organisations and businesses.

Teaching Strategies

This degree capstone course has been developed to take into account the OSP experiences of students (or the equivalent experience). INST3900 is taught over 12 weeks consisting of a 3 hour course (2hr lecture and 1hr tutorial) on key issues and challenges in International Studies. These are free-flowing discussions centered on provocative tutorial questions each week, where students debate the issues and find solutions to the problems and challenges of our times, drawing on their previous 3 years of study including 1 year spent abroad in travel and study during OSP.
Assessment

Please see the Assessment Guide for full details of what is expected in this class and for additional information about weekly content, writing expectations and so on.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
• understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
• be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of
  UNSW ICT Resources Policy
• be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
• locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
