Summary of the Course

This course taught in English offers a systematic comparison of French and English as far as sounds, vocabulary, word formation, and sentence structure are concerned. It will focus on the typical difficulties encountered by learners of French in pronunciation, orthography, and grammar in order to give them the tools to improve their accuracy and become independent learners.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Apply a critical understanding of the tools and methods of linguistic inquiry.
2. Examine the various linguistic categories in French: sounds, morphemes, words, phrases and clauses.
3. Compare various linguistic categories in French and English.
4. Identify some features of linguistic diversity.

Teaching Strategies

Rationale:

This course provides an introduction to the structure of the French language and will focus on the typical difficulties encountered by English-speaking learners of French. All of our students have English as one of their languages as a native or a second language. So contrasting the two makes sense. We will also give the opportunity for students whose first language is not English to make punctual comparison with their first language in an oral grammar presentation.

This contextual studies course is integrated within the French studies program, as it builds on the learning of the structures discovered in language courses, and complements other linguistically orientated courses: The contextual studies course: The French Speaking World (taught in English), and the Professional level course: Approaches to Spoken French (taught in French). The course helps students develop their accuracy and sociolinguistic competence in the French language, and gives them the tools to become independent learners.

Teaching Strategies:

The course is taught in English as it is one of the contextual studies courses in the major in French Studies.

The Teaching approach involves class discussions as well as small group discussions during the tutorials, and during the lectures. This is achieved by means of a variety of tasks most of which require students to prepare in advance.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Test

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: ca. 50 min. each

Details:

Two in-class tests of ca. 50 minutes each covering the content of the course via problem sets and short essay questions. The summative tests are preceded by formative weekly online and/or tutorial exercises.

Feedback via in-class discussion, error correction, and written comments.

Turnitin setting: This is not a Turnitin assignment

Assessment 2: Project

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: 15 to 20 minutes group presentation - 1000-word individual report

Details:

Students identify an area of the French language (sounds, vocabulary, word formation, or sentence structure) they want to enhance.

- They make a ca. 20-minute group presentation giving an analysis of selected features of the French language and compare them with their equivalent in English and/or other languages (25%). The oral presentation can be done in class or via online means.
- After the presentation, students submit an individual report on Turnitin (ca. 1000 words). The report written in the form of an essay details their contribution to the group presentation, summarizes their main argument with in-depth analysis of the supporting examples, and provides appropriate referencing (25%).

Feedback via in-class or online discussion, marking rubrics and written comments.

Additional details:

Oral presentation: Each group of students will post one 15 to 20-minute video submission in VoiceThread (Moodle) on a prepared topic on week 8 and then you will individually watch and ask a couple of questions or make a brief comment to two other groups’ posts (2 minutes each) before Week 9 tutorial discussion. Your individual written report is due on during the exam period on Turnitin (Moodle).

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students do not see Turnitin similarity reports.
Attendance Requirements

Students are strongly encouraged to attend all classes and review lecture recordings.

Prescribed Resources

- Additional materials provided via Moodle.

Recommended Resources

We advise you to purchase either one of the following grammar reference books written in English:

  This book adopts a comparative approach between English and French. Each term or concept is first introduced in relation to the English language before being explained in relation to French. You can revise both your grammar of English and your grammar of French. Then, you can do exercises in your regular language course textbook at your proficiency level.

  This book gives clear explanations in English about French grammar. It starts from the level of absolute beginners and gives you shortcut to find the information you need if you are already at a more advanced level. It also contains exercises directly relating to each term or concept presented.

Additionally, you should think about acquiring a good dictionary. If you intend to do a major in French, we recommend that you buy a large bilingual (French-English/English-French) dictionary. You should buy the biggest dictionary you can afford: a pocket size or concise dictionary will quickly prove inadequate. The following dictionaries are available from the Bookshop:

Course Evaluation and Development

Courses are periodically reviewed and students’ feedback is used to improve them. Feedback is gathered from students using myExperience. It is encouraged students complete their surveys by accessing the personalized web link via the Moodle course site.
Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course’s Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
• understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
• be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of
  UNSW ICT Resources Policy
• be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
• locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
