Summary of the Course

Sex is a constant through time, but ‘sexuality’ has a history. By starting in the Ancient world, you will learn that people and societies have not always understood sexual behaviour to equate with a sexual identity, such as ‘homosexual’ or ‘heterosexual’. ‘Sexuality’ then is a modern phenomenon. To comprehend this, we will examine why masturbation suddenly became a very big ‘problem’ in the 18th century and why sex was increasingly regulated from the 19th century. We chart the growth of new forms of sexual knowledge and ponder feminist critiques of Freud and other sex ‘experts’. We wind up in the twentieth century, with not one but several sexual revolutions. The course is designed for students in Women’s and Gender Studies and in History, but should appeal to anybody with an interest in one of the most studied and discussed aspects of modern life.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate a broad historical knowledge of the history of western sexuality.
2. Identify key debates, thinkers and concepts in the interdisciplinary field of the history of sexuality.
3. Locate and contextualise primary material relevant to the history of sexuality.
4. Construct arguments using interdisciplinary scholarship - for example, from history and from gender studies - in written and/or verbal form.
5. Submit original work, properly referenced.

Teaching Strategies

This course is designed to develop your skills at critiquing scholarly literature, constructing your own arguments and conducting scholarly research. The lectures provide essential background information and introduce theoretical concepts and debates, drawing from both Gender Studies and History. Course content also includes documentary material from the ever expanding visual archive of the history of sexuality. In class we will discuss set readings and other course content, guided by tutorial questions. My teaching strategy is to encourage your critical engagement with course material through class discussion and written responses to selected tutorial questions. The course will also help you develop your research and written and verbal skills through a sexual knowledge presentation and a research essay which requires you to undertake independent research on a specific topic.
Assessment

Written work is assessed according to three main criteria - argument and analysis; style and structure; research and referencing.

We prefer the footnote/bibliography reference system: https://student.unsw.edu.au/footnote-bibliography-or-oxford-referencing-system

If using in-text please use a system that includes a page number for in-text, e.g. https://student.unsw.edu.au/harvard-referencing

Marks are out of 100.

Grade definitions are:

HD
High Distinction: An outstanding performance; mark range 85-100. Indicates that the student has produced outstanding work, and has demonstrated a high level of understanding across the entire content of the course.

DN
Distinction: A superior performance; mark range 75-84. Indicates that the student has demonstrated superior ability to consider the course and its assessment requirements from a number of perspectives and to explore their interrelation.

CR
Credit: A good performance; mark range 65-74. Indicates that the student has demonstrated the ability to think analytically and contextually about the course and its assessment requirements, and to understand/present alternative points of view/perspectives and supporting evidence.

PS
Pass: An acceptable level of performance; mark range 50-64. Indicates that the student has addressed the assessment requirements of the course and has demonstrated an acceptable understanding of the issues entailed.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Sexual Knowledge Presentation
Start date: Allocated in first tutorial

Length: 5 minutes

Details:

Students present a five-minute presentation on a source of sexual knowledge, broadly related to the week’s topic, to the class during the two-hour tutorial. Weeks are allocated in the first tutorial. Their presentation should engage with assessment questions (instructions provided in the course guide).

Students will also send their tutor (via email) the power-point/ Google Slides of their presentation no later than 9am of the morning of their presentation for the tutor to load on Moodle. The presentation is worth 15% and students are assessed on content, delivery, analysis and the presentation slides.

Students will receive written feedback via email within a week of their presentation.

Submission notes: Please send your PP/ Google slides to your tutor and Zora in advance so they can load onto Moodle.

Turnitin setting: This is not a Turnitin assignment

Assessment 2: Tutorial & Lecture Responses

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: 200-250 words x 6

Details:

Across the term, students answer six questions in writing based on tutorial readings and/ or lecture content of approximately 200 words each.

Students receive written feedback via a rubric and individual comments (Turn It In/ Moodle) and also general feedback in tutorials within ten days of submission.

Additional details:

This assessment is due in two batches - 2 questions from Weeks 1-4 due at end of Week 4, 4 questions from Week 5-10. Questions and further guidance will be on Moodle.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students do not see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 3: Research Essay

Start date:

Length: 2000 words
Details:

Students write an essay (approximately 2000 words) based on independent research. The essay is the final assessment for attendance purposes.

Feedback via individual comments and rubric (Turn It In/ Moodle) no later than ten days after submission.

Additional details:

Essay questions will be posted on Moodle early in the course. Other resources will be provided - an essay guide and recommended/ suggested resources in Leganto. It is recommended that you use at least 6-8 secondary sources, plus primary material, for a research essay. Essays should be fully and properly referenced and presented in requested format (1.5 to double spacing, 12 point font).

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.
Attendance Requirements

Students are strongly encouraged to attend all classes and review lecture recordings.

Resources

Prescribed Resources

The key readings each week will be listed and available on Moodle/ Leganto.

Recommended Resources

There is no set text for this course, although Veronique Mottier's Sexuality: A Very Short Introduction (2008) provides a good, fast overview - see Leganto for other recommended readings. Leganto will also include recommended readings for essays.

Course Evaluation and Development

We take student feedback very seriously and will seek it out formally (MyExperience) and informally (in class discussion). We're very proud to have received overwhelmingly positive feedback in the past - this course has been among the most highly ranked in the School / Faculty since its inception. Students love the content, class discussion, the sexual knowledge presentation and the type and level of assessment - we hope you do too.
Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course’s Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
• understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
• be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
• be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
• locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
