Summary of the Course

This course offers you the opportunity to deepen and expand upon the environment and society change-making knowledge you have gained in previous IEST courses through applied experiential ‘in-context’ learning. Using the flexibility of Work Integrated Learning (WIL) at UNSW, you will identify a partner organisation supervisor with whom you negotiate the terms and goals of your placement. In accordance with WIL policy, “partner organisation” can refer to those external to UNSW, such as industry and community, as well as to UNSW itself. The partner organisation supervisor is the person at the partner organisation responsible for supervising you and liaising with the course coordinator. Following approval of your internship or practicum by the course coordinator, you will spend 105 hours working with your partner organisation. This is generally one or two days per week to fit around the 10-week term.

Note: To gain entry into this course, you must have achieved at least a credit (65%) average across three IEST courses.

You may undertake 12 UoC of practicum courses by enrolling in both IEST8001 and IEST8003. The courses may be taken concurrently or in different terms of your degree.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Develop a professional/research project
2. Design and implement an effective project or internship management plan
3. Develop and apply appropriate methodologies to address the aims of the organisation and the internship or project
4. Conduct literature reviews to address specific applicable practicum topics
5. Analyse, interpret, and reflect upon findings and experiences
6. Deliver conclusions and recommendations through reporting and oral delivery

Teaching Strategies

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
• understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
• be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
• be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
• locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
