Attendance Requirements

A student is expected to attend all class contact hours for a face-to-face (F2F) or blended course and complete all activities for a blended or fully online course.

A student who arrives more than 15 minutes late may be penalised for non-attendance. If such a penalty is imposed, the student must be informed verbally at the end of class and advised in writing within 24 hours.

If a student experiences illness, misadventure or other occurrence that makes absence from a class/activity unavoidable, or expects to be absent from a forthcoming class/activity, they should seek permission from the Course Authority, and where applicable, their request should be accompanied by an original or certified copy of a medical certificate or other form of appropriate evidence.

A Course Authority may excuse a student from classes or activities for up to one month. However, they may assign additional and/or alternative tasks to ensure compliance. A Course Authority considering the granting of absence must be satisfied a student will still be able to meet the course’s learning outcomes and/or volume of learning. A student seeking approval to be absent for more than one month must apply in writing to the Dean and provide all original or certified supporting documentation.

Summary of the Course

Subject Area: Chinese Studies

This course explores recent translation theories and methodologies, as well as the role of translators in modern multi-cultural societies. You will learn how to translate between Chinese and English, using different translation theories and techniques, and how to develop individualised strategies for your translation that tap into your own capacity and strength and further expand it. You will develop and hone your skills in tackling different styles of translation through various hands-on translation exercises.

At the conclusion of this course the student will be able to

1. identify recent developments in translation theories and practices and explain at least one basic translation model/style
2. assess new techniques and technologies available for English and Chinese translation
3. tackle translation in a problem-based, objective-oriented manner, employing concepts, terminology and logical thinking to justify translation outcomes
4. translate selected representative texts from Chinese into English and English into Chinese

Teaching Strategies

This course will familiarise you with recent translation theories and methodologies, honing your skills in tackling different styles of translation. The lectures introduce current translation theories, methodologies and techniques which are explored in specialised weekly readings. Relevant quizzes are employed to encourage thorough comprehension of and critical reflection on the readings. The lecture also involves an in-depth discussion of the readings and translation topics. The tutorials provide a hands-on opportunity to put translation theories and methodologies into practice. You will develop and polish your skills in translating different styled texts through various translation exercises. Teamwork and peer learning is emphasised in the tutorial. Translation skills will be further assessed by an end-of-term test. The research project requires you to either undertake independent research and write a solo critical review on a specific topic, or prepare a pair/group presentation on a given topic.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Research Project

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Students either write a solo critical review (approx. 1500 English words or 1800 Chinese characters) based on independent research or do a pair/group presentation (ca. 8 minutes per person). Feedback via individual comments and in-class discussion.

Assessment 2: Final Test

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Students complete a test (ca. 100 minutes) including two translations: one from Chinese to English and one from English to Chinese. Students receive a mark and can consult the lecturer for further feedback. This is the final assessment for attendance purposes.

Assessment 3: Quizzes

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Students complete 10 quizzes (approx. 10 questions each) on a weekly basis for ten weeks. Feedback via in-class discussion.

Additional details:

Each quiz is worth 2.5%.
Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students do not see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 4: Translation exercises & assignments

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Students complete 4 translation exercises (approx. 100 English words or Chinese characters each) and 2 translation assignments (approx. 200 English words or Chinese characters each). Feedback via individual comments and in-class discussion.

Additional details:

Each translation exercise is worth 2.5%; each translation assignment is worth 10%.
Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course’s Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Late Assessment Penalties

An assessed task is deemed late if it is submitted after the specified time and date as set out in the course Learning Management System (LMS).

The late penalty is the loss of 5% of the total possible marks for the task for each day or part thereof the work is late. Lateness will include weekends and public holidays. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded.

Work submitted fourteen (14) days after the due date will be marked and feedback provided but no mark will be recorded. If the work would have received a pass mark but for the lateness and the work is a compulsory course component, a student will be deemed to have met that requirement. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded.

Work submitted twenty-one (21) days after the due date will not be accepted for marking or feedback and will receive no mark or grade. If the assessment task is a compulsory component of the course a student will automatically fail the course.

Special Consideration Applications

You can apply for special consideration when illness or other circumstances interfere with your assessment performance.

Sickness, misadventure or other circumstances beyond your control may:

* Prevent you from completing a course requirement,
* Keep you from attending an assessable activity,
* Stop you submitting assessable work for a course,
* Significantly affect your performance in assessable work, be it a formal end-of-semester examination, a class test, a laboratory test, a seminar presentation or any other form of assessment.

For further details in relation to Special Consideration including "When to Apply", "How to Apply" and "Supporting Documentation" please refer to the Special Consideration website: https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration
Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit. It also applies to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without referencing and a student’s own analysis to bring the material together.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
• better manage your time
• understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
• be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of
  UNSW ICT Resources Policy
• be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
• locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
