Summary of the Course

Examines the history and current legacy of colonisation and government policies for Indigenous Australians and their position in contemporary Australian society. Social movements and actions relevant to Indigenous Australians’ social experience will be discussed. Addresses in particular the skills social workers need to work with Indigenous clients and what role social work can play in progressing equity and social justice for Indigenous Australians.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Explain the key social and community issue facing Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander communities
2. Engage in critical reflection on the role of social workers in working with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Peoples and communities
3. Identify the skills, attributes and knowledge needed for work with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Peoples in social work contexts
4. Develop skills of self-reflection in the context of social work with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Peoples and communities

Teaching Strategies

Rationale:

In accordance with UNSW Learning and Teaching Guidelines, we expect to engage students in learning through structured hands-on activities. This is premised on the belief that effective learning takes place when students are actively engaged in the learning process

Teaching Strategies:

The learning outcomes will be addressed through weekly lectures and tutorials. The tutorials are based on interactive participation by all members of the tutorials. Students are expected to engage with the material presented through the lectures, to read and to consider the wider issues as they occur within society and to prepare for the tutors in order to enhance their learning experience.
Assessment

Class Participation
Students are expected to thoughtfully and actively engage with the course content, and their own worldviews and perceptions in relation to the course. To assist this, students should come prepared to each tutorial by doing the preparation and homework and bringing a question, comment or discussion topic in relation to the weekly readings, or the lecture content. Each tutorial will critically engage with what students have learnt that week, and these discussions will aid you to write your final assessment.

Online Quiz
As per UNSW's policy to provide students with feedback on their progress prior to the census date (14 March), students will be required to complete an online Moodle quiz by the end of week 4 (Fri 12 March). The quiz will not count towards your weighted assessments and will be informed by the set readings and lecture content for weeks 1-4.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Essay

Length: 1000 words, not including references

Details:

Description: An essay on a topic relevant to the course (1000 words).

Feedback: Written feedback within 2 weeks of due date

Additional details:

This essay may be related to your tutorial presentation topic, or you can choose your own (in consultation with your tutor).

- The significance of Terra Nullius today
- Social justice, equality and Indigenous Australians
- Indigenous child, family and community welfare
- Key moments in Aboriginal Australia
- Historical trauma, healing and resilience
- Closing the Gap
- Dispelling myths, combating stereotypes
- Aboriginal activism
- Opppressive government policies
• Cultural competence where there is cultural difference
• Social workers and Indigenous communities

Note these topics have been left quite broad so you will have the flexibility to develop your own ideas and approach to the topic.

For this essay, you are expected to:

• Clearly introduce the topic or issue
• Show a scholarly engagement with the issues by:
  ◦ Outlining the history and context of the chosen topic or issue
  ◦ Clearly arguing your position on the chosen topic or issue
• Demonstrate values consistent with the social work profession by:
  ◦ Discussing the relevance of this topic or issue for social workers
  ◦ Discussing the implications of this issue for social work practice

Submission notes: Please follow the School referencing guide, consult the rubric, answer all questions asked and format your assignment appropriately.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 2: Self-reflection

Length: 2500 words, not including references

Details:

Description: 2500-word reflection on a topic relevant to the course

Feedback: Written feedback within 2 weeks of due date

This is the final assessment for the course

Additional details:

This assessment is a critical self-reflection on your learning experiences throughout the course. You will need to write about what you have learnt and how you have reacted to and interacted with the course content and your social work peers. How have your perceptions on the various topics explored throughout the course changed since the beginning of term? What topics made a particular impact on you and why? Importantly, what do these learnings mean for how you will approach your role and the skills and knowledge you will apply as a social worker in the field?

To aid in writing this self-reflective essay, we strongly encourage you to keep a reflective journal that you write in regularly following lectures and tutorials, and after engaging with the course content. Students are expected to use citations from the course content, and self-reflective literature in the writing of this essay.

Submission notes: Please follow the School referencing guide, consult the rubric, answer all questions asked and format your assignment appropriately.
Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.
Attendance Requirements

Partnerships and collaboration between students and educators are particularly important in social work learning. As well, to maintain our accreditation as a provider of social work education, it is important that each student finds themselves in an environment where they are able to experience all content to a high level of depth and engagement. For this reason, active participation and commitment to attendance is expected of all students.

Compassion and concern for student welfare is what we strive for in our provision of social work education and this is enabled by two-way communication. Communication is especially important when a student is experiencing learning barriers, particularly those which affect class attendance and completion of independent learning tasks.

To ensure that student learning and wellbeing is at the forefront of all decisions made, we encourage all students to communicate any barrier to attendance to your course convenor, lecturer or tutor as soon as possible, so a collaborative plan can be developed to work around these barriers.

If your attendance is affected for a limited period of time, we will refer you to selected alternate tasks we have created to promote your access to vital content in this course. These alternative tasks can also be completed by students whose attendance is exemplary and who wish to extend their learning. We will expect you to take full responsibility and initiative for completing these alternate tasks and to ensure that in completing them you develop a good working knowledge of the content missed.

Our aim is to foster an environment where students feel comfortable coming forward regarding concerns about their learning and attendance. Based on experience, if your attendance drops below a certain level it is unlikely you will have the skills and knowledge to effectively achieve the learning outcomes of this course; which is why we highly encourage active attendance and participation. With effective communication and planning we endeavour to avoid situations where students feel they have not adequately engaged with the course, and therefore strongly encourage students to communicate any concerns as early as possible. We want to again emphasise the importance of collaboration and communication, and acknowledge the unique circumstances students may find themselves experiencing.

Resources

Prescribed Resources

Recommended Textbook:

- Bennett, B., Green, S. (2019) Our Voices. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social Work. 2nd Ed. Palgrave, NSW. (note that the 1st Ed. of Our Voices is also suitable as a substitute if you have been able to obtain a copy second hand or are able to access online).
- Additional readings and stimuli will be provided online - Please find details Moodle.

Recommended Resources

Please download and read the AASW Code of Ethics (2020)

Course Evaluation and Development

Students will undertake a questionnaire in their last class and also are requested to complete the UNSW online course survey.

Students are welcome and encouraged to talk to the course convenor or the course tutors about any feedback they have throughout the course. If students would like to provide anonymous feedback they are welcome to do so by contacting the SOSS office.

Student feedback from 2020 has allowed us to refine the way we teach this course and the resources we provide, and has allowed us to describe the assessments more clearly.
Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course’s Moodle site with alternative submission details.

For information on how to submit assignments online via Moodle: https://student.unsw.edu.au/how-submit-assignment-moodle
Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
• understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
• be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
• be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
• locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
