Call for Papers

The International Conference on Tax Administration is a prestigious biennial event bringing together leading tax administrators, tax administration policymakers, academics and practitioners from around the globe.

The theme of the 2023 conference is 'Tax Administration: Evolution or Revolution'. The conference will explore latest developments and innovations in revenue administration in Australia and overseas. These include (not limited to):

- innovative initiatives in service delivery (including digital and data use, tap and go, AI, algorithms);
- developments encouraging sustainable compliance in tax risk areas as diverse as the hidden economy; crypto currency and other digital assets and adoption of a range of tools; including the rise of tax transparency to aid compliance;
- opportunities and challenges to the shape of the tax system from new technologies including data policy, ethical data exploitation, cyber security and progress in the regulation of the relatively new data platforms;
- administering sustainability (or ESG) initiatives in the tax system including effectiveness of service and administrative techniques to attain-compliance;
- developments in globalisation of revenue administration (e.g. mutual cooperation on tax risks and data exchange and exploitation); and
- tax dispute resolution and developing new approaches to protect the vulnerable.

Your proposal should include the following details:

- title of the paper;
- author(s) brief professional bio and contact details;
- an abstract of 200–500 words on the contents of the proposed paper including its findings (actual or expected); and
- status of the paper, e.g. it is part of ongoing research, it has been previously published. Note whilst we are keen to showcase new original research; recent high quality published research will also be favourably considered.

Proposals should be sent to tblconferences@unsw.edu.au with subject ‘Tax Admin Conference Call for Papers 2023’ by end of Friday 25 November 2022 (Sydney time).

A Steering Committee will select papers for the conference. You will be advised of its decision by mid-December 2022. Submission of full papers will be required by early March 2023 using the conference template. Selected papers will be published in a special issue of the eJournal of Tax Research (A-ranked-in the list of journals of the Australian Business Deans Council).

The Cedric Sandford Medal will be awarded to the best paper presented at the conference (only papers submitted on time are eligible). The medal is in memory of Emeritus Professor Cedric Sandford and is judged by an independent expert panel.
