2.1 Course summary

Continuation of training of psychological assessment and treatment skills and ethical practices required in the professional context. Attendance at lectures and workshops is required. This course is associated with the placement requirement of the program.

2.2 Course aims

Focus on the professional skills and ethical decision making required for the practice of Forensic Psychology. Clinical skills related to the assessment and treatment of clients are introduced and practiced through role plays leading to in vivo practice within placement. This course is associated with the practical placement component of the Master of Psychology (Forensic) program and is offered through lectures and workshops.

2.3 Course learning outcomes (CLO)

At the successful completion of this course the student should be able to:

1. Apply knowledge of forensic psychology frameworks, theory and research to their practice with individual within legal processes, procedures and proceedings.
2. Continuing development of culturally responsive assessment and treatment within forensic populations, including alternate dispute resolution strategies.
3. Develop a framework for, and demonstrate an ability to apply theories of forensic psychology to deliver evidence based interventions for a variety of forensic populations, especially within a group context.
4. Apply critical thinking skills to ethical decision making. Demonstrate an advanced understanding and appreciation of ethical values in forensic psychology by using information in an ethical manner, applying the scientist-practitioner model to recognize and make ethical decisions.

2.4 Relationship between course and program learning outcomes and assessments

3. Strategies and approaches to learning

3.1 Learning and teaching activities

Working with the Scientist-Practitioner model, a sound understanding of ethical practice and the development of practical evidence based skills is essential to a practicing forensic psychologist. Presented through lectures and workshops, material is balanced between lecture, case presentations and hands on experiential learning leading to in vivo experience in student placements.

Consistent with the Learning and Teaching Philosophy of UNSW, this course aims to provide opportunity for student engagement through workshops, lectures, discussion of lecture material, student presentations, written assignments, opportunities for experiential/ practical learning.

3.2 Expectations of students

It is expected that students are aware of UNSW Assessment policy and understand how to apply for special consideration if they are unable to complete an assignment/exam due to illness and/or misadventure.

It is expected that students have read through the School of Psychology Student Guide, including the statement on Inherent Requirements of the program, and the Master of psychology (Forensic) Program Guide available on the school website <https://www.psy.unsw.edu.au/current-students/postgraduate>.

Students registered with Equitable Learning Services must contact the Course Convenor immediately if they intend to request any special arrangements for later in the course, or if any special arrangements need to be made regarding access to the course material. Equitable Learning Plans must be emailed to the Course Convenor as soon as they are made available.

Students must attend 80% of lectures and workshops to ensure they are consistently working towards achieving the professional graduate competencies for specialised areas of practice required by the APAC Accreditation Standards. These Accreditation Standards are incorporated in Program and Course Learning Outcomes. Any absence must be accompanied by a medical certificate or other reason for absence. Additional self-study material may be assigned by the Course Convenor to ensure that the student has covered any material missed as a result of being absent from workshops or meetings.

Information on any course changes will be made available either on Moodle, Teams and/or by email. It is the student's responsibility to check for changes.

4. Course schedule and structure

This course consists of approximately 28 hours of lecture material and 80 hours of workshops (the workshop scheduled varies from year to year and will be provided separately). Students are expected to take an additional 40 hours of self-determined study to complete assessments, readings, and exam preparation.

| Week | Topic | Activity | Related CLO |

5. Assessment

5.1 Assessment tasks

All assessments in this course have been designed and implemented in accordance with UNSW Assessment Policy.

| Assessment task | Length | Weight | Mark | Due date (normally 5pm on due date) | CLOs |
|---|---|-----------|------|-------------------------------------|-------|
| Summative Assessments | | | | | |
| Assignment 1: Skill development – Psychoeducational Groups | Varies | 40% | /40 | As noted | 1,3,4 |
| Assessment 2: Review | 90 minutes | 50% | /50 | At meeting | 1,2,3 |
| Assessment 3: PEP log book | Covers reflections on lectures/ workshops | 10% | /10 | 5pm on Friday of week 11 | 1 |
| Compulsory Activities | | | | | |
| Compulsory Activity 1: Attendance at lectures and workshops | N/A | Pass/Fail | P/F | Ongoing | |
| Compulsory Activity 2: completion of mid placement review of first external placement with significant progress towards completion of first external placement | As per basic contract | Pass/Fail | P/F | | |

Assignment 1: Psychoeducational Groups - Presentations and groups on agreed topics will be run in lectures on weeks 3-9. Students will engage in co-facilitation of a group as agreed upon in Week 1. Each set of cofacilitators will present on a particular topic for approximately 15 minutes, then prepare the 'group' for the module they will be facilitating. The group will run for the remainder of the class with one break for feedback. On the date of the group/presentation, the follow documentation is required from the presenters:

- Presentation slides/notes
- Session preparation

Within one week of presentation/group, the following documentation is required:

- Summary of the session with notes on each group member's participation

NOTE: if you participate in more than one group, marks will be averaged. The groups will be marked on a rubric with the following skills: 1. Provision of an overview, 2. set up of the group by the cofacilitators, 3. awareness of group dynamics and cofacilitation skills, and 4. showing teaching skills and related activities.

Assessment 2: Review (see below for preparation for Review*) – Agenda required. Written documents must be sent at least three business days prior to Review to gain feedback (ensure you add an agenda item regarding review of written documents if you want feedback during the meeting). All documentation to be sent electronically to amcgregor@unsw.edu.au. Review must be booked by end of week 9 via Doodle Poll (if you cannot make the time you have indicated on the poll, you are responsible for finding another available timeslot or exchanging a timeslot with another student). Documentation includes:

- Agenda (with time marks, learning point from videos, as well as other relevant queries about professional development placements, feedback on documentation, etc.)
- a letter to the head of the violent offender program outlining your findings and recommendations. Ensure you identify alternative resources if client is unsuitable.
- Your assessment notes, including the assessment protocol utilized
- Group session preparation (GSRS and ORS will not be required due to time restrictions)
- Critique of another student's presentation (preference is that this is shared with the other student)

Assessment Video – Specialized assessment for treatment program suitability (client is a violent offender with moderate/high levels of psychopathy). Must show evidence of:

- explanation for assessment,
- consent for assessment
- assessment of motivation for treatment,
- exploration of probability of treatment gain,
- barriers to treatment.

Therapy Video – Group psycho-educational session. Each facilitator must demonstrate:

- check in,
- review of gained skills,
- introduction of a new skill,
- dealing with resistance within a group structure.

* Preparation for Review: Each PEP course has video requirements for the Review, which involves organizing role plays with a PEP1 student who will be your 'client' – remember, this means that you will likely need to reciprocate and be their 'client' for their videos. Video your role plays (while doing role plays, please video both the 'therapist/assessor' and the 'client') ensuring that sound quality is adequate (if inadequate, then the required skills cannot be assessed). Ensure that you prepare your partner for their task (it generally does not work well to tell your 'client' to "wing it"). Provide (and ask for) feedback from your role play partner subsequent to the tasks.

Assessment 3: PEP log book - Notations of activities with a focus on reflections on learning through lectures and workshops as part of professional development.

Assessment 4: Attendance - Attendance at lectures, workshops (80% attendance is required)

Assessment 5: Placements - Students must have successfully completed their mid placement review and made significant progress towards completion of their first external placement. All associated documentation and logs must be submitted to placement coordinator. This is a course requirement; if a placement is marked as an "unsuccessful completion", the Program Director has the discretion to fail the student in PEP4 and implement a remedial plan. A second failure can result in termination of the student's program.

5.2 Assessment criteria and standards

Further details and marking criteria for each assessment will be provided to students closer to the assessment release date (see 4.1: UNSW Assessment Design Procedure).

5.3 Submission of assessment tasks

Written assessments: In accordance with UNSW Assessment Policy must be submitted online via Turnitin. No paper or emailed copies will be accepted.

Late penalties: deduction of marks for late submissions will be in accordance with School policy (see: Psychology Student Guide).

Special Consideration: Students who are unable to complete an assessment task by the assigned due date can apply for special consideration. Students should also note that UNSW has a Fit to Sit/Submit rule for all assessments. If a student wishes to submit an application for special consideration for an exam or assessment, the application must be submitted prior to the start of the exam or before an assessment is submitted. If a student sits the exam/submits an assignment, they are declaring themselves well enough to do so and are unable to subsequently apply for special consideration. If a student becomes ill on the day of the exam, they must provide evidence dated within 24 hours of the exam, with their application.

Special consideration applications must be submitted to the online portal along with Third Party supporting documentation. Students who have experienced significant illness or misadventure during the assessment period may be eligible. Only circumstances deemed to be outside of the student's control are eligible for special consideration. Except in unusual circumstances, the duration of circumstances impacting academic work must be more than 3 consecutive days, or a total of 5 days within the teaching period. If the special consideration application is approved, students may be given an extended due date, or an alternative assessment/supplementary examination may be set. For more information see <https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration>

Alternative assessments: will be subject to approval and implemented in accordance with UNSW Assessment Implementation Procedure.

5.4. Feedback on assessment

Feedback on all pieces of assessment in this course will be provided in accordance with UNSW Assessment Policy.

| Assessment | When | Who | Where | How |
|---|--------------------|--------------------------------|-----------------------------|---|
| Assignment 1 - Skill development – Psychoeducational Groups | In class and after | Anita McGregor | In class and after by email | Verbal |
| Assessment 2 - Review | During review | Anita McGregor | During review | Verbal and written |
| Assessment 3 - PEP log book | During review | Anita McGregor | During review | Verbal |
| Compulsory Activity 1 - Attendance | N/A | Anita McGregor | During review | Verbal |
| Compulsory Activity 2 – Placement | Ongoing | Supervisor(s) and program team | Ongoing | As per Basic Contract and learning Plan |

6. Academic integrity, referencing and plagiarism

The APA (6th edition) referencing style is to be adopted in this course. Students should consult the publication manual itself (rather than third party interpretations of it) in order to properly adhere to APA style conventions. Students do not need to purchase a copy of the manual, it is available in the library or online. This resource is used by assessment markers and should be the only resource used by students to ensure they adopt this style appropriately:

APA 6th edition.

Referencing is a way of acknowledging the sources of information that you use to research your assignments. You need to provide a reference whenever you draw on someone else's words, ideas or research. Not referencing other people's work can constitute plagiarism.

Further information about referencing styles can be located at <https://student.unsw.edu.au/referencing>

Academic integrity is fundamental to success at university. Academic integrity can be defined as a commitment to six fundamental values in academic pursuits: honesty, trust, fairness, respect, responsibility and courage.¹ At UNSW, this means that your work must be your own, and others' ideas should be appropriately acknowledged. If you don't follow these rules, plagiarism may be detected in your work.

Further information about academic integrity and plagiarism can be located at:

- The Current Students site <https://student.unsw.edu.au/plagiarism>, and
- The ELISE training site <http://subjectguides.library.unsw.edu.au/elise>
